SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS SHATTER WINDOW AND WRECK TRACKS

Charge Attempt to Blow Up Car Shops at Danville, Ill.—Head of C. & A. Road Promised Striking Crews Everything But Road if They Return—Men Yield and Train Service Resumes

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—After a series of four explosions early this morning shattered windows and demolished long strings of yard trackage in the shops of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road here. It was believed that an attempt had been made to destroy the entire shops. One bomb had been planted near the main entrance of the yard.

First Train in 60 Hours

ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—After a promising train men, who had quit work last Friday that he would "give them everything but the railroad" Vice President A. P. Titus of the Chicago & Alton Railroad Co. at 7:30 o'clock this morning had the satisfaction of seeing the first train in 60 hours leave Roodhouse, bearing two passengers to St. Louis. It came through from Jacksonville.

Trains will be run only by day for the present, at the request of the men.

Greenhalge and North Common Playgrounds Scenes of Happy Gatherings—Elaborate Programs and Ideal Weather—Playground Season Has Been Very Successful

When the children of the Varnum, Lakeview, and Greenhalge playgrounds gathered at the latter place this afternoon, and those of the North common and Alken street assembled on the North common. It marked the first step in the grand finale to the most successful playground season in the history of the city of Lowell. An ideal day with perfect weather prevailing lent a degree of enchantment to the elaborate programs of song, dance, recitation and

BILLERICA MEN FINED IN LIQUOR CASE

Matthew Bennett, owner of the premises in Billerica where a still was found yesterday by officers and Harry Berger, who was tending the plant at the time of the raid, were arraigned in court this morning and charged with illegal keeping of liquor. Both were found guilty. Bennett being fined $150 and Berger $100.

Early yesterday morning Federal Officer Holt and Chief Henry Livingston and Officers O'Brien and White of the Billerica police, raided the premises of Bennett in Billerica and discovered two 75-gallon stills in operation. His house is the last one in the town of Billerica on the Bedford road, near the Burlington-Billerica town line. The stills were found in a little hut about 100 yards in back of the house, together with two 6-burner gas stoves, 10 gallons of moonshine and 16 barrels of prepared mash. A 10-gallon still, which had evidently been replaced by the new outfit, was found outside the hut. At the time of the raid Bennett was not at home. Berger, who said that he lived in Malden and had been hired to tend the stills was taken to the local police station. Bennett was later arrested.

BRIDGE WILL COST $50,000

Mayor and City Engineer Urge the Necessity of Quick Action

Service Board Will Consider Plans for Lundberg Street Bridge

Immediate steps will be taken to start work on replacing the Lundberg street bridge with a structure that is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Mayor George H. Brown today sent a letter to George W. Bowers, chairman pro-tem of the board of public service, requesting that a special meeting of the board be called at once to consider sketches submitted for the new bridge.

This morning City Engineer Kearney was in conference with the mayor relative to the bridge.

SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

Senate Consideration Near End—Final Vote May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senate consideration of the soldiers' bonus bill neared an end today, but some senators doubted that the hope of those in charge of the measure for a final vote before adjournment tonight would be realized. Half a dozen or more amendments remained to be acted upon and, in addition, a number of senators desired to deliver addresses on the bill itself as well as the various changes proposed.

Amendments included the Smith-McNary $350,000,000 reclamation plan; the Smoot sales tax proposal as a means of raising the necessary funds; the Smoot paid-up insurance plan in lieu of all options; the Bursum half cash, half credit proposition and two proposals by Senator Walsh, democratic, Massachusetts, a cash bonus and a plan under which the veterans could apply their bonus money on the premiums of their converted government life insurance.

Prof. Ghose of Calcutta, India, Calls on Mayor for Tag Day Permit

Distinguished Visitor Will Address Mass Meeting in A. O. H. Hall This Evening

Lowell today was visited by a man of international fame when Prof. Sallendra Nath Ghose of Calcutta, India, national director of the Friends of India, called upon Mayor George H. Brown with the request that his organization be allowed to hold a Tag day in this city, the funds of which would go towards the relief of 10 millions of people now starving in his native land.

Prof. Ghose came here well recommended and was accompanied on his visit to the mayor by a delegation from Central Council, A.O.H. The mayor granted the permit for a Tag day, which will be held Sept. 15.

A professor of physics in the University College of Science in Calcutta, India, Mr. Ghose was forced to flee his country in 1916 to escape deportation to an island on the charge that he was a revolutionist. He escaped through the medium of being a stoker on a British war ship and obtained shore

GRABLE APPEALS TO HARDING

Wants Congress to Amend Law to Force Labor Board to Define "Living Wage"

Hearing on Plea of Maintenance Men for Wage Increase Adjourned

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press) The Railroad Labor board today denied the motion of W. Jett Lauck, labor statistician, that the board immediately define the principle of "a living wage" in the case of the maintenance of way employes who are seeking increased minimum rates of pay. At the request of E. P. Grable, president of the maintenance organization, the hearing then was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Mr. Grable announced that he was telegraphing President Harding and Senator Cummins, one of the authors of the transportation act, at Washington today, asking them to present to congress an amendment to the act which would make it mandatory on the labor board to "enunciate the principle of the living wage."

The board in its ruling on Lauck's request declared it could not go beyond the transportation act which proscribed the establishment of "just and reasonable" wages.

ALLEGED GAS NOISANCE

Quick Action Taken as Result of Story Appearing in The Sun

People who live in the vicinity of Fletcher, Worthen and Dutton streets will be pleased to hear that some action is being taken by city authorities to abate the gas nuisance in that section.

Yesterday the matter was brought out in The Sun and Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health immediately took up the matter with officials at the gas plant.

This morning Mayor George H. Brown stepped in and urged that something be done at once to remedy the alleged nuisance. He talked with Agent O'Hare relative to the matter and suggested that catch basins and man-holes be cleaned in that section more often.

Some time today Agent O'Hare and P. W. Parham, sewer engineer from the city engineer's office, will visit the locality and will attempt to trace the source of the gases.

The residents point to the fact that the smell is not something that suddenly came upon them for a day only, but that the nuisance is of long standing.

Last Sunday the climax was reached when the odor became so offensive that people were made sick and compelled to close windows during part of the day to shut out the dangerous fumes.

A talk with almost any resident in that section will convince one there is something wrong somewhere, either with the sewers or the methods used to carry away waste materials.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO LEGION CONVENTION

At least 10 members of the American Legion will leave this city tomorrow night for New Bedford where they will act as delegates to the state legion convention which opens in that city on Thursday. At 10 o'clock tomorrow night a meeting of all delegates from Middlesex county will be held.

The local delegation will be headed by Stephen C. Garrity, commander of the local post. He said that an effort would be made to bring the convention to this city for next year.

United States Conciliation Commissioner For Department of Labor Arrives in Lowell and Will Interview Strike Leaders and Mill Officials—Police Protection For Strike Breakers

Robert M. McWade, United States conciliation commissioner for the department of labor at Washington, D. C., came to Lowell this morning to investigate the textile strike. His mission is to visit strike leaders as well as mill officials, in order to secure data concerning the textile difficulties and attempt a settlement, if possible. Upon reaching Lowell, Mr. McWade went directly to strike headquarters in

Harding Still Believes Congress Should Grant Him Authority to Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding still believes that congress should grant him immediately authority to take over railroads and mining properties, it was said today at the White House but has assured congressional spokesmen that only the most dire public necessity would move him to exercise such powers if granted. If congress indicates unwillingness to enact the legislation necessary the president does not intend to push his opinion or to make a formal public demand for the powers, it was said, officials adding that he does not believe that there is any present necessity for action under such a grant.

150 Passengers and Crew of 72 Men Lost When Chilean Steamer Sank

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The Chilean steamship Iltia, 2200 tons, sank today off the Chilean coast, near Coquimbo. All the passengers, numbering 150 and the crew of 72 were lost.

Men May Come to Life on Screen

JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—Men who may never see the light of day again as a result of the Argonaut mine fire, may come to life on the motion picture screen. A San Francisco film company recently visited the mine to film true scenes of the Mother Lode country as motion picture background. Many men of the Argonaut mine took part in the filming of the picture.

Guests Flee From Fire at Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Fire early today destroyed the Bender Hotel in Riverway. Thirty guests were forced to flee to the street in night clothes. The blaze for a time threatened business property in the Park section and the entire fire department was called out to fight the fire.

Forced to Evacuate Important Post

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The Greeks have evacuated Afium Karahissar under the force of the Turkish nationalist attack, says a Central News despatch from Athens today. This important central point in the Greek line in Asia Minor has yielded in the face of superior enemy forces.

Tear Gas Halts Reformatory Outbreak

Hoover Sees Little Hope of Cox Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Secretary Hoover sees no very great possibilities in the suggestion of James M. Cox, former democratic candidate for president, that the commerce secretary represent the United States on the reparations commission. "There is not much likelihood of that," said Mr. Hoover today declining further to discuss the subject.

IRREGULARS FIRED ON MURDER OF JOHN BERGEN

COLLINS MOURNERS

BELFAST, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) Republicans fired upon a congregation of mourners yesterday as they were leaving a Westport (Mayo) church, having attended mass in honor of Michael Collins, says a message received today by the Athlone correspondent for the Belfast Telegraph.

The correspondent telegraphed his paper that the Athlone military headquarters was without official knowledge of the reported shooting, but the unofficial message stated that five civilians were killed and several others wounded.

The Republicans fired at the worshippers from across an adjacent river, the message said, and men, women and children died in all directions as volley after volley was poured in their directions. Troops vigorously replied to the firing, and a stiff engagement ensued after the arrival of reinforcements, but the Republicans were finally driven from the town.

INCREASE IN NUMBER SENT TO LYMAN SCHOOL

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The number of boys committed to the Lyman school at Westboro during the last year increased 23 per cent. over the previous year, according to a report made public today by the board of trustees. In an effort to trace the cause of each boy's fall from grace, an analysis of the home conditions of each was completed.

The report said that every one of the 311 boys committed this year attended church, one-third of them used tobacco, and 10 per cent had interior fathers. Nineteen were orphans. Lack of work and general industrial conditions probably accounted in a large measure for the increases, the report added. Most of the boys were committed for larceny or breaking and entering.

"Mysterious Blonde" Tells of Slaying—Authorities to Present Case to Grand Jury

EDGEWATER, N. J., Aug. 29.—The story of Miss Alice Thornton, the young movie actress who has revealed what preceded the slaying of "Daredevil" John Bergen, at the home of George Cline, film location manager Friday night, today led county authorities to announce they were ready to present the case to the grand jury on Sept. 8.

Miss Thornton's story, told last night after a search for a "mysterious blonde" which ended at her New York apartment, was supplemented by Joseph Lurillo of Grandwood, N. J., who also was at the Cline home when Bergen met his death. Authorities expected to examine both witnesses again today.

Cline's confession that he shot Bergen, while he and Bergen were mounting to the attic of the Cline home to fight a duel over Mrs. Cline, was described by the testimony of Miss Thornton and Lurillo, authorities declare.

Both told how Bergen, accused by Mr. and Mrs. Cline, admitted his guilt. A few minutes later, Miss Thornton is alleged to have related, they heard a shot and Bergen staggered down the stairs to the street, where he found dying. Lurillo corroborated her story, adding that when Cline came down from the attic he said: "You can go home now, I'll see you some other time."

Closing Exercises

every playground in the city represented. As a result, the exhibitions, though playfully, did not provide the personal or individual touch so noticeable at today's exercises.

At the North common, a large gathering of parents and interested spectators surrounded the space where a minstrel show of unusual merit was given by the children of the Alken and North common playground, under the direction of Supervisors Miss Charlotte Green and Miss Mary Kelly, assisted by Miss Rose Brown, Miss Ruby Blain and Miss Alice Gallagher. The youngsters simply revelled in minstrelsy and made their last 1922 exhibit a most impressive one. The solos, choruses and other features were carried out without interruption, showing the result of careful teaching and study.

The program follows: Opening chorus; Dixie, Ten Little Fingers, Peg O'Neil, Tuck Me to Sleep, Skirt Dance, Bather, Marshall, Solo, "Granny," Eugene Cummings, Song and dance, "My Sunny Tennessee," Hilja Roberts, Song, "Dapper Dan," Bessie Abel and chorus, Duet, "Birds of a Feather," "Ginny Shore," Rose Whalen and Theresa Dalton, Exhibition fox trot, Lillian and Ida, Lester, Solo, "You Too," Francis Garigan, Gold Dust Twins, Ray Sheridan and Harold Tierney, Piano and violin, Messrs. Cummings and Sheridan, Songs, Sadie Goplinck and chorus, Aerobatic feature, Irene Richards, The Shells, Alice Coomer, Rhyme, "When Shall We Meet Again."

Following the completion of the program, Mr. Harvey B. Greene of the park commission, and Superintendent John W. Kernan of the camp department, presented the prizes to the winners of the various contests conducted throughout the season. Medals, bronze, gold and silver, multi-colored ribbons and other emblems of victory were distributed to the lucky individuals.

Greenhulze School

At 3 o'clock at the Greenhulze school, the Varnum and Lakeview avenue children presented their own distinctive programs, which proved but a repetition of the North common success. The Greenhulze group, supervised by Miss Helen Munn, opened the festivities with the salute to the flag and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, rendered in true patriotic fashion. This was followed by an exciting dodge ball game between the junior and senior organizations, a novelty dance, "Slide and Spin," by the juniors and a Norwegian mountain march by the seniors. Then came the game of "Cat and Cat" with Helen and Anna Garret in the feature roles. A step dance by Stephanie Gavette, a call ball contest and a dance, "Rock and Jump," concluded a most interesting program.

The stage was then adapted to the Lakeview avenue contingent under Miss Agnes Dudley, and her little charges resembled a fairytale in miniature with dances and imitations extraordinary. The complete program follows: Special dances, jockey, parson, Columbian and Highland Fling, Mother Goose.

Hot Cross buns, Bean Porridge, Hey Diddle, Diddle, Diddle, Pick-a-Do, Pick-a-Do, Little Boy, Peep, Ban Black Sheep, Vineyard and Virginia reel dances.

The Varnum presentation, arranged by Miss Martha Gardner, kept the large audience enthralled during the progress of their last and best appearance in the playground limelight. A fairy dance by Phyllis Grant and Catherine Kearns and an impersonation of "The Nobleman" by Gertrude Whelton and Francis Mullin spoke volumes for the remainder of the program which included a Highland Scotch dance by Catherine Kearns, Edna Lally, Agnes Riley and Mary Murphy, a waltz by Louise Broderick and Marion Crawford, a jockey dance by Eva Kearns and an Irish jig by Edna and Harold Lally. All of the above reflected great credit on the instructor in charge and showed the wonderful cooperation given by the pupils.

Park officials are profuse in their praise of Mr. Arthur Sullivan who, in the capacity of head play-

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS

Once people tried to reform the dancers; now dancers are turning the tables and are going to reform the people—that is if they are not beyond redemption.

We are always in need of a reformation, it appears, but fortunately for us, the agencies change from time to time.

The International Association of Masters of Dancing and the American ground supervisor during the season, Mr. Sullivan has been on the job every minute of his valuable time and Sept. Kernan aptly termed him "the right man in the right place." It was chiefly through his untiring and impersonal efforts that the 1922 season of the playgrounds was able to endure and make history for the city in this line of recreative exercise. Mr. Sullivan, in turn, takes this opportunity, through the Sun to congratulate and thank the various instructors as well as the parents for the spirit of cooperation shown by them during his regime. The other playgrounds will close tomorrow with the same pleasing programs which characterized those of this afternoon and which will make the concluding season one long to be remembered.

BEDFORD TAX RATE DECREASED $1.30

BEDFORD, Aug. 29.—The tax rate for 1922 was announced yesterday as $2.26, a drop of $1.30 from last year. According to the assessors this decrease has been made possible since in the town's valuation, largely through real estate. The total valuation is set at $2,562,291, of which $2,112,438 is in real estate, an increase of around $200,000, and $449,853 in personal property, a gain of about $50,000.

The town grant this year totaled $73,648.52; state tax, $5,249.55, and county tax, $3,125.35, making with other taxes about $82,000 to be raised by taxation.

New Dances to Be Moral, Teachers Decide

Dancing Masters Association say both in session in New York, involving new steps that will cause us to renounce our wild ways, our shammy and our toddle.

They are not responsible for the immoral depths to which we have sunk, they say, though jazz music has led the dance astray, but they are pledging themselves to bring us back to normalcy.

They have decided that our dance diet for the coming season shall be restricted to the waltz, fox trot and tango. But they are trimming up these dances and adding new steps so that they will be adequate fare.

Steps will be shortened, so that the ladies with fashionably long skirts may look graceful. Music will be slightly accelerated so we are not tempted to do anything but dance. The death grip with which partners have held each other will be relaxed to an easy hold, and check-to-check dancing will be no more.

The Argentine fox trot is being picked as the winner for the season. It is easy, graceful—and moral. Start out with a regular fox trot, then after two walking steps, make a half pivot on the left foot, then step back on the right foot in the line of direction, then step to the left, close the right to left, and step forward again. This time, to the left and step back on the right, completing the turn. There you are. Master it yourself, and join the "reformers."

Seeks Help for the Starving

leave in this country and failed to return to the ship.

He stayed in the country but a year when he was arrested in New York City by United States officials for British officials on a charge of attempting to interfere with the foreign relations of America by acting as a representative of the Indian nationalist party. He was held in the Tombs in New York under a $25,000 bond for 10 months. He was finally brought to trial but the charge against him was dismissed owing to the lack of evidence. The Friends for Freedom for India was then organized with Grenville S. McFarland of Boston as national chairman. The organization has headquarters in the chief cities of this country. In Washington, United States Senators Walsh, Norris of Nebraska and La Follette are actively engaged with the organization.

The appeal made by Prof. Ghose is not one for funds with which to add any political movement. It is for funds to aid the starving people of two sections of India. The entire country of India is practically starving but two sections are worse off than the others.

In the southern part of India, in the Malabar district, there are four millions of people facing the worst famine that has swept over the country according to Prof. Ghose the British government segregated the women and children. When the rebellion ended the women and children had no one to take care of them and were given without food or clothing. The land is uncultivated and the population has nothing from which to draw foodstuffs. They are entirely dependent upon what comes in from the outside.

There are also 40,000 political prisoners and the funds which the organization in this country raises go towards their support. The district of Kuluha, which takes in about six millions of people, has been constantly flooded by the rivers and consequently the crops have been ruined. The people were counting heavily upon the crops this year and with a flood ruining them the population of that district faces famine and death.

The movement to obtain funds is a new one and has been in progress for only about six months. It is the plan of the organization to obtain sufficient funds from small cities to stage a national drive. When sufficient funds have been raised the national drive will be launched.

A mass meeting of all people in the Province of India will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in A.O.H. hall, Middle street at which time Prof. Ghose will explain more fully his mission.

Bridge Will Cost $50,000

live to pushing the work through at once. He pointed out that the bridge was needed badly and if work were to be accomplished on it, some start would have to be made right away.

The engineer submitted three sketches of bridges, all calling for different kinds of work. The sketches were estimated to cost $10,000, one $15,000, and one about $50,000. After looking over the sketches, and upon the advice of Mr. Kearney, Mayor Brown recommended that the bridge costing $10,000 would be the best to answer all purposes.

The difference between the cheaper bridge and the one decided upon was a matter of $3000 but when the facts of the construction work were looked into it was found that in the long run the $10,000 bridge would fill the bill. The bridge listed an $46,000 called for girder between the sidewalk and the road. With this sort of a structure, Engineer Kearney pointed out the weak spots and showed where the cement on the bridge would not be protected. With the $10,000 affair the girders would be constructed at the outer edge of the walk and would protect the cement work from elements that are apt to work on unprotected cement.

Engineer Kearney illustrated his point by calling attention to another bridge in the city which was in poor condition owing to the fact that sulphur fumes from the soft coal used by the railroads had made inroads upon the outside covering. The engineer said that the work looked all right at a glance but that a severe rap of any kind would break away the covering.

The Lundberg street bridge has been closed now for a long time and it was expected that work would be started upon it almost any time. But with fast approaching there did not seem to be any move to get at the work of replacing it. Engineer Kearney said today that if the sketches were approved, the bid called for which contracts let for the next couple of weeks there is no reason why the work shouldn't be completed by the end of the year.

Peace Near in Coal Strikes

ably within a week, representatives of the miners and hard coal operators will sign a peace pact and 165,000 workers upon thereafter will return to their jobs.

Meanwhile, the series of conferences held by John I. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and by Mr. Warfield and other operators, has been continuing. United States Senator Davis, Secretary of Labor Davis, Mayor John D. Ryan of Scranton and others have conferred with the labor leader in the last few days. It has consistently declined to comment on the situation.

House to Pass Coal Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Termination of the coal strike in the Pittsburgh bituminous district, was forecast today when the district officers of the United Mine Workers announced they would meet the coal committee of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association tomorrow on invitation of the association to discuss signing a scale under the Cleveland agreement.

Consideration by the house today of its emergency coal distribution bill under a rule providing for six hours of debate appeared to insure a vote on the measure before adjournment tomorrow.

President Harding had been assured by Republican Leader Mondell that the bill, reported out of a committee yesterday and designed to strengthen the administration's hand in controlling coal distribution by creating a federal distributing agency, and extending the powers of the Interstate Commerce commission over priority of shipments, would be passed before tomorrow night.

Meanwhile a more complicated legislative situation in the senate was developing. Action on the companion measure pending there, also reported out yesterday, but leaders predicted that it would receive favorable action without much delay. Secretary Hoover, in appearing at hearings yesterday on the House bill, asserted that some legal method, such as contained in the bill, of restraining extortionate prices in coal would be necessary, and Commissioner Atkinson, of the Interstate Commerce commission, seconded this view. Opposition was expressed, however, by representatives of both operators and labor in the industry.

With administration leaders apparently confident that the difficulty threatened in passing the increasing quantity of coal being mined, due to transportation conditions, can be materially relieved under priority authority already possessed or to be conferred by pending legislation, the proposal for government operation of rail properties as well as those of the anthracite coal industry, had been put aside today. The president was understood to be not disposed to ask for the necessary congressional authority at least at this time. As to the anthracite situation, reports reaching the White House were so reassuring that it was indicated an agreement for reopening of the mines was expected within a very short time.

Pending passage of the emergency legislation by congress, federal control of coal prices and distribution under the voluntary distribution organization had stopped today. Federal Fuel Administrator Spencer having announced the abandoning of his voluntary committee. The end of the week and the discontinuance of super-priority orders for the movement of coal.

Abandon Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Definite abandonment of President Harding's proposed plan to congress for a federal agency, with capital to buy, sell and distribute coal, was announced at the house today by Chairman Winslow of the Interstate Commerce committee at the beginning of a debate on the bill to create machinery to supervise distribution only.

In plans, Mr. Winslow said, has been acquired in by the president, whose suggestion for a purchasing and selling agency had been thrust into the background of congressional consideration almost as soon as it was submitted.

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The most interesting picture I have seen in quite a time is "The Mystery Box." It has no love theme, little humor, no story, no beautiful settings. In short, it has none of the elements by which the entertainment value of a picture is usually estimated.

"The Mystery Box" tells the story of the radio. It is one of those three films of combined line drawings and photographs. It makes the transmission of sound waves in an abstract form as easy to understand as the most abstract physical phenomena.

The amateur radio operator is shown just how and why the various elements of the receiving and sending sets work. He sees how the radio wave is varied by the sound of the voice in the transmitter and how this variation is received in the receiving set, the sound being converted again into the original form, that of the voice.

Humans have communicated by sound ever since the beginning of human creation, yet the secret of sound transmission has been known for only a short time. Many long hours of study are required to learn the scientific principle in school. The motion picture visualizes the entire process in ten minutes. "The Mystery Box" is a simple proof of the secret of visual education. As I recall long hours in the army spent in the study of communications, ballistics and other subjects of similar nature, I wonder why the government did not employ the motion picture as a means of visual education.

One thing that the reviewer of pictures must constantly guard against is bias for or against certain players whose screen personalities have become so ingrained in the public mind that they are not always the same as real personalities. Even if they were they should not enter into a judgment of the merits of a picture.

With this explanation it is probably not uncharitable to say that the one character on the screen that irritates me is the reaction of the stars. One of the stars of the picture is Dorothy Vernon, one of the stars of Christie comedies. No matter what his role he seems to be a smart aleck, just as Dorothy Vernon does in her manner. I think that no one can realize that he is supposed to be funny and like the small child called to recite his piece when company comes, he shows off before the camera.

Yet this very manner makes "Paradise My Glove," the next Christie comedy, better than the average run of comedies. In that Vernon is a youth who takes to prize-fighting after his father disowns him for being expelled from college for fighting.

He is to travel ahead of the champion and establish a reputation for himself by knocking down a huge negro who travels with him. Then he is to be "set-up" for the champion when the latter arrives.

The situation is complicated when

VERNON and the champion fall in love with the same girl. The fight that follows is one of the funniest and best done in any recent comedy, due chiefly to Vernon's acting.

The situation in "Paradise My Glove" finds its counterpart in prize-fight circles today. The champions in almost every weight division are side-stepping engagements with men who stand the best chance to wrest their crowns from them. They're willing to fight if they could find set-ups.

Censorship of books can be made as silly as that of pictures. Walt Whitman is suppressed in Hungary as an anarchist and communist writer. The United States bans the translation of "Mademoiselle de Maupin," French story, France disapproves the serial publication of "Sherlock" Anderson's "Winchester, Ohio," but permits the issue of Joyce's "Finnegans," banned in America and England.

Edith Roberts has replaced Edith Bennett as leading lady in "Thomas and Orange Blossoms."

WAITING AT THE CHURCH
Willie Gardner Appeals to Court to Have Marriage License Annulled

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., Aug. 29.—Willie Gardner has appealed to the courts to have annulled a marriage license which records him as married to a young woman who left him waiting at the church, the mythical ceremony now acting as a barrier to a wedding with a new fiancee.

When Gardner's first intended bride balked at the ceremony, he prevailed upon the preacher to certify that the ceremony and the marriage license could be annulled. A few weeks later found him recovered from the blow and with another marriage license. His application for a second license was refused on the ground that the record showed he already was married.

PROTEST WILL OF MRS. TERESA BELL
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A contest of the will of the late Mrs. Teresa Bell, which was made in the presence of the two Bell children and cut them off from her million dollar estate, with bequests of $5 each, was on file here today.

Mrs. Muriel Bell Hunter of Hollister, Cal., in her petition, which was filed in superior court, alleged that Mrs. Bell was insane. Mrs. Bell left the bulk of her estate to charity and the state of California.

Dry Leader Says Prohibition Will Be Here in 1947

BY EDWARD M. THERRRY
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—How long do prohibition leaders think it will take to make America dry?

"Twenty-five years," says William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

Anderson, though a state leader, is the most militant prohibitionist in the country and he admits he has the hardest job in the west coast state in what he calls "liquor's black belt"—New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

In an interview with N. E. A. Service he made these predictions:

"Within five or six years we will have broken the political backbone of booze and checked all serious efforts to change the dry law."

"Within another five or six years the bootleggers will be so generally in jail or in terror that the Volstead act will not be broken any more than other laws are."

"After that it will take 15 years for complete education of the people, especially those of foreign birth or extraction respecting the nature and effect of alcohol to the point where prohibition will no longer be either an issue or a problem."

Anderson thinks prohibition really will be here in 1947. Perhaps earlier—but 1947 is his conservative estimate.

"Mazurka straw votes don't lagher us," he said. "Nor does the growing agitation for beer and light wine. There isn't one chance in 100 of the Volstead act being changed."

Qualifying, he added: "But if it is changed—mark you, it will only be temporary."

Consumption of alcohol has dropped to 10 or 20 per cent compared with pre-prohibition days, Anderson estimates. The number of drinkers, he thinks, has decreased almost as much.

"I haven't any illusions about Congressmen and legislators," he said. "I know lots of those who vote dry are not really dry. They're honest if they vote according to the sentiment of their constituents."

"Politicians and the public generally will eventually get it, through their heads that anarchy is the only alternative to enforcement and observation. The Anti-Saloon league will be necessary, Anderson says, through most of—and perhaps all—of the 26 years necessary to make prohibition prohibitive."

"It will cost more, too," he said, "because we now have two jobs where we formerly had one. Those are first to hold the law by electing dry Congressmen and state legislators; and second, to enforce the law by organizing the public to get behind the regularly constituted local enforcement authorities—back up good officials, jack up the others."

"We are pushing a three-fold plan: first, convincing Congressmen for enforcement through the newly formed Allied Citizens of America, Inc., forcing everyone to take a definite stand either for or against law and order; second, enacting an enforcement ordinance in every community; third, applying the 'Yankers Plan' where enforcement is done by a general strike called by the public and will enforce the law, or focusing publicity upon them if they won't."

Anderson says New York state already has 250,000 members of the Allied Citizens of America, and the enrollment campaign is just beginning.

When the fight is turned on all decent people will come in," he said. "There are prominent bankers, lawyers, manufacturers, and even a few preachers who by opposing prohibition have placed themselves in the same category with frowny whiskered anarchists. When they see that through ignorance or prejudice they have lined up with the animals they will come in out of the wet."

INTERNATIONAL FREE SEABIRDS AND SHARKS TRADE ADVOCATED EATEN BY CREW

VIENNA, Aug. 29.—A sensational incident occurred at yesterday's session of the Inter-Parliamentary union conference here when M. Treub of Holland after reading a paper on international commerce, departed from his subject and advocated international free trade. He denounced what he termed the Chauvinist trade barriers erected by the newly formed European states, and presented a resolution for the summoning of a world conference to abolish tariffs.

The British spokesman objected to the introduction of controversial political questions at the conference, but the resolution was adopted by a large majority.

He was strongly supported by Representative Theodore E. Burton of the American delegation who said that while his group would not withdraw in view of the importance of the conference, yet they would remain silent spectators. He debated on such questions were allowed, namely, what M. Treub of the French delegation brought up the reparations question, declaring that the talk of a breakdown in German currency was "all babbled" and that the Reich merely meant to evade payment.

FARMERS WILL SAVE MANY THOUSANDS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Farmers of the country this fall will be able to save hundreds of thousands of dollars in clearing their land of stumps, in drainage work and in other efforts requiring blasting.

The use of picric acid salvaged from the surplus of explosives which will be distributed by the United States bureau of roads, it was announced today.

The only cost to the farmers who may obtain supplies of the explosive through any state agricultural college or agricultural state extension service will be a charge of six cents a pound for drying the acid and placing it in cartridges and, in addition, the small expense of transportation.

Approximately 5,000 pounds of picric acid is available for distribution.

EMERALD CLUB OUTING
The fifteenth annual outing of the Emerald club of Lowell was held at the beach last Sunday. Three trucks left the club rooms at 9 o'clock, arriving at the beach about 10:30. In one truck were the members of the senior class, in another the Young Men's club, and in a third the Young Women's club. Numerous guests of the club, numbering almost 150, also made the trip. On the return journey the familiar yell of the club greeted the various towns through which the party passed. C. E. Burke had charge of transportation.

WILL ANSWER ANY WOMAN WHO WRITES
Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, when I was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

Mrs. JOHN HENRI, 53 Dilley Street, Cumberland, Md.

Mrs. Heller's case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

"How do they keep 'em up with that little strap?" Men have often asked that, referring to evening gowns. Eleanor Boardman reveals the secret in this picture. She is having her gown pasted on.

MANIAC CAUSES REIGN OF TERROR

Summer Residents Beaten by Man Who Leaps From Ambush and Then Flees

Three Men Attacked in Ten Days—Houses Now Barri-caded by Owners

BRYANTVILLE, Aug. 29.—Summer residents camping on the shores of Little Sandy Pond in Mayflower Grove here are barricading the doors of their homes at night and dare not leave their cottages after dark following three assaults by a man thought to be a maniac.

Three times in the last ten days the mysterious mad man has leaped from ambush and without provocation has struck down passersby.

On another occasion he bombarded two cottages all night with rocks.

Vanishes After Attacks
Posses seeking some trace of the maniac have reported that he vanishes like a wraith after his assaults. Vacationists from Greater Boston were victims of two assaults although the maniac has not been seen since Friday night campers in Mayflower Grove are still suffering a reign of terror. The police of Bryantville are investigating.

The maniac is described as a young man, smooth shaven, about five feet seven inches tall and wearing a gray Norfolk suit.

The first attack was made on Thomas Mulken of South Boston, who was staying in the Little cottage a week ago Thursday night. He was passing through the grove on the way to his tent when he was seized from behind and a blow to the head was struck.

Mulken recovered from the blow and fled, flight leading speed to his tent. He returned to the cottage, where he was again attacked. Gallagher of Watertown of the assault and a posse was formed to scour the woods. No trace was found in an all-night search.

Early Friday morning a man answering the description of the maniac was seen on the steps of the cottage. He was questioned by Chief Bates of the police department, who allowed him to go afterwards.

The following night John Barry of the street, also of South Boston, was walking through the woods when the gilliearing man darted from some low bushes and buried a large rock in the back of his head.

Barry dropped unconscious while Gallagher fled for aid. He brought back Timothy Mulken of 223 West 10th Street, South Boston, and Frank Timothy and Thomas McCue, both of Roxbury, and after carrying Barry to a doctor where he was revived they secured the maniac until a later hour.

That same evening Gallagher, the friend of the first victim, was striking through the grove with a girl. The attacks were the subject of their conversation.

"What would you do if that madman should chase you," the girl asked.

"Don't worry, I'd protect you," Gallagher replied.

All Night Bombardment
As he completed his sentence the figure of the madman leaped to the bushes with face distorted by rage and his companion fled. All that night cottagers were kept awake by a bombardment of their cottages with rocks.

The woods nearby were searched without finding a trace of the man and the bombardment continued until morning.

For one week no appearances of the maniac were reported. Last Friday night Clyde Herne, an undertaker in the street, was proceeding to his home near Big Sandy Pond, where he lives with his parents.

Near a cemetery between the two ponds the figure of the madman emerged from the darkness and cried: "Where are you going?" Struck him in the eye with his fist. Herne fled.

All of the men assaulted here substantiate their stories and all agree that the man is demented, although descriptions by the victims have varied.

GENERAL STRIKE NIPPED IN BUD BY POLICE

PARIS, Aug. 29. (By the Associated Press).—The elaborate plan of campaign prepared by the police appears to have nipped in the bud the general strike ordered by the Extremist Labor Federation in sympathy with the Havre strikers and in opposition to the Conservative Labor Federation. Cavalry today patrolled all strategic points and a police airplane hovered over the city keeping in touch by wireless telephone with the reserves entrusted with the task of dispersing all manifestations. The taxicab drivers are idle.

Liner Sails Despite Strike
HAVRE, Aug. 29.—Despite the general strike here, the French liner steamer La Savoie sailed for New York after midnight last night, as scheduled. The Rochambeau will depart late tonight.

The strikers followed the advice given by their leaders and the general strike meeting that violence be avoided, and last night and this morning passed peacefully.

BIG TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHT PLANNED

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 28.—The C-2, a small biplane, 198 feet overall span, 60 miles an hour, now at Langley Field, is being overhauled in preparation for a transcontinental flight, which will be started early in September. A new car, designed to reduce the wind resistance, is being built and will be installed shortly.

The trip is to be made to chart a transcontinental airship route, photograph landmarks along the way, and compiling a camera map of places suitable for landing fields; to make a complete study of engine performances; to ascertain changes in design necessary to improve the general performance of dirigible balloons in long flights and to ascertain the best methods of mooring and caring for airships where hangars and repair shops are not available.

The C-2 will be manned by Major H. A. Strauss, in command; two other officers; two pilots and a radio operator.

Co. and the Columbia Textile Co. He also obtained information concerning the situation in wages at the Lowell Bleachery, where the employees are now working under protest and left later on a tour of the various mills affected by strikes.

Mr. McWade went to Lawrence some time ago in an endeavor to settle the strike there, but the result of his work was not made public. From Lawrence he was sent to the middle west and upon his return he was assigned to Lowell. He spent yesterday afternoon in a special mission, and it is believed that as soon as he is through with his work in this city he will visit Ware, Mass., Nashua, Manchester and Concord, N. H., and other New England centers that are affected by textile strikes.

Mr. McWade was met by a Sun representative this morning, but he would make no statement concerning the local strikes as he said he was not aware of conditions here and would not be in a position to make any statement on the subject. There is a feeling of alibi strike headquarters that the government representative will succeed in bringing about a settlement of the strikes, the first of which date back to Feb. 13.

Since 100 strike breakers are now employed at the plant of the Columbia Textile Co., where a couple of weeks ago the employees left their work as a protest against a 20 per cent wage cut. The men are escorted to and from their work by police officers and although Market street is lined up morning and night by strikers, while the strike breakers are on their way to and from their work, no disturbance has as yet occurred. Yesterday, afternoon, 5 o'clock when the plant shut down, a march out of the building, headed by Lieut. Connors and escorted by Sergs. Maguire, Kennedy and McGlathry, while the waterman who was started on continued till a late evening hour. The drawing contest in connection with the admission tickets, however, has been postponed because a large number of coupons had not been returned. The affair was in charge of a committee of men headed by the president of the union.

2000 at Benefit Dance
The benefit dance for the textile strikers conducted last evening at the Lakeview dance hall, under the auspices of the Street Carriers' union, was attended by about 3000 men and women. It is said that the attendance would have been larger had not the weather interfered, for close to 4000 tickets were sold. In the early part of the evening concert numbers were given by the orchestra and later general dancing was started and continued till a late evening hour. The drawing contest in connection with the admission tickets, however, has been postponed because a large number of coupons had not been returned. The affair was in charge of a committee of men headed by the president of the union.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARIES

Contest Between Johnson and Moore for Nomination for Senator Feature

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A record registration and a sharply contested race for an important nomination combined today to indicate a heavy vote in California's primaries. The contest attracting chief interest is that between William Johnson, incumbent, and C. C. Moore, for the republican nomination for senator.

The races for the republican gubernatorial nomination and for the lieutenant governorship on the same ticket, also are receiving much interest. These were contested vigorously by Governor William D. Stephens and Friend W. Richardson, state treasurer, and C. C. Young, incumbent, and Joseph A. Rominger.

Matison B. Jones, Los Angeles attorney, and Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney for Los Angeles, are seeking the democratic gubernatorial nomination and Jones also seeks prohibition endorsement for the office. Alexander Horr of San Francisco is unopposed for the socialist nomination.

Montana Primaries
HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—Montana voters went to the polls today to nominate candidates for the United States senator, representatives in two congressional districts and, exclusive of governor, for various state offices.

One woman and five men are candidates in the First Congressional district for the democratic nomination, Magistrate Smith Hallway of Stevensville being the only woman candidate for the more important posts.

Another Council
QUITS A. A. R. I. R.
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Garrett Barry Council, American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, has withdrawn from the state association and will hereafter be known as the Collins-Griffith association of Somerville. This action was taken Sunday night at a meeting in the Somerville, according to an announcement made by members was caused by a statement made by the state council to the effect that "Michael Collins, commander of the Irish national army, met the end that he deserved."

20 P. C. INCREASE FOR 3000 EMPLOYEES
PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 29.—Three thousand employees of the Minnesota Steel plant of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. here will receive a wage increase of 20 per cent beginning Sept. 1. These men are classed as unskilled laborers.

"Sylpho-Nathol made Herbert's feet feel fine"

"Herbert's work keeps him on his feet for hours at a time. He walks miles and miles every day. In hot weather, his feet used to hurt him, dreadfully—they would swell and get so tender he couldn't sleep at night. But Sylpho-Nathol gave him quick relief."

"Letty Hayward told me about Sylpho-Nathol and its many uses. I bought a bottle at the druggist's. The directions recommended it for tired and aching feet."

"Herbert came home that evening with his feet driving him nearly crazy. He tried Sylpho-Nathol as soon as I told him about it. A tablespoonful in a gallon of warm water made a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution. My dear! I wish you could have heard Herbert. 'Sylpho-Nathol is certainly a life-saver, Bess,' he said, as it soothed the soreness away. 'It's great stuff to have in the house—don't let's ever be without it.'"

But Sylpho-Nathol has many other important uses. In cleaning-water, it destroys germs which lurk in dust and dirt and threaten family health. As a sprinkle, it quickly dispels the unpleasant odors which come in sink pipes and drains and other hard-to-get-at places. It is indispensable in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl. It is a dependable antiseptic, which deserves a place in every home medicine chest.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4 1/2 times stronger than carbolic acid, yet it is as safe to have about the house as a cake of soap. Your druggist or grocer has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. If he hasn't it he can get it easily. Ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

Cloth Coats Are So Alluring They Rival Furs

TWO STUNNING WINTER OUTFITS. AT THE LEFT, ONE OF THE NEW COATS OF BROWN WOOL BANNED WITH HEAVY, AND A WINTER SUIT, ALSO OF BROWN, EMBROIDERED AND FUR TRIMMED.

Now that you have done your fur coat shopping early and probably spent your dress income for several months ahead, along come the alluring cloth coats and suits.

They are so very attractive they are sure to give you anxious moments and make you wonder if, after all, you bought wisely.

You will find much to delight you in the new suits and wraps. They have a suppleness of texture, richness of coloring and variety of treatment that is amazing and appealing.

They achieve a general effect of grace and softness that makes them universally becoming.

Short Model Coats

In coats there are many new short models of the sport variety, as well as the long straight-line coat and the flaring model.

Much has been predicted for the flaring coat, and since it presents a new silhouette many women will favor it for its novelty.

But the straight coat has been given so many decidedly novel features it will undoubtedly hold its own. We find it embroidered, stitched and combined with contrasting silks and velvets.

Frequently it is belted and slightly bloused and has the one-sided cabochon fastening, the newest feature. Very wide fur collars and cuffs are used on these wraps, and frequently fancy and unusual sleeves add an odd touch.

The flaring coat is usually belted at the bottom with fur and cut with a narrow shoulder line.

Few Gay Linings

One sees few gay linings this season. Usually they are of crepe de chine, matching the color of the coat. Plain rather than figured material is chosen.

Knitwear, heavier, more, crepe and Persian lamb, as well as the various foxes, are the pelts most frequently used in combination with cloth.

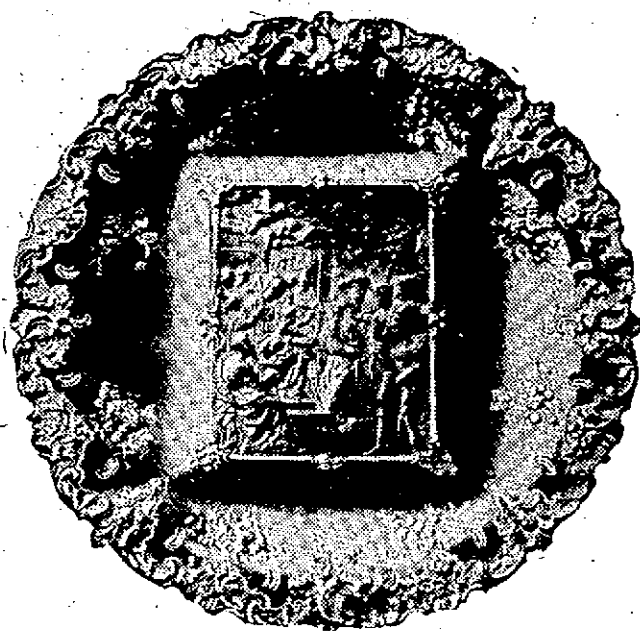

Suits are to be more popular this year than they have been since the reign of the one-piece frock.

One reason for the revival of interest in the suit is the new blouses. They are made of the most gorgeous materials, embroidered and beaded, and are so elaborate that they form a costume when worn with a suit skirt.

Silk sweaters and Russian over-blouses, plain and beaded, will be extensively shown for winter.

On the whole, you are facing one of the most decorative seasons of history.

CHURCH MEETING WILL DISCUSS RIGHTS OF WOMEN

GOLD BASIN IN WHICH OFFERINGS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WILL BE PRESENTED AT THE EPISCOPALIAN CONVENTION.

BY N. E. A. SERVICE

PORTLAND, ORE., Aug. 28.—Representation in the governing bodies of the Episcopal church by women will be one of the chief topics of the forty-seventh triennial general convention of the church to be held here September 6.

A partial report of the joint commission on women's work has declared that "a very decided weight of opinion that has come to the commission does not favor the establishment of a national house of church-women."

The report further sets out that "in many quarters the clergy and the laity, including the womanhood of the laity, have not as yet made up their minds, but are awaiting light upon the matter before expressing an opinion."

This despite the action of several state conventions, which went on record and actually gave women places as deputies.

The commission, however, will give full consideration at the convention to the matter of equal rights.

Great interest centers in the final recommendation of the joint commission, which declares married as well as single women shall be eligible as delegates.

One of the events at the convention will be the presentation of the thank offering of the women's auxiliary, gathered from all parts of the world, China, Alaska, Africa, the Philippines, from everywhere.

At the end of three years the combined offering is sent to the general convention, contained in a tiny gold basin.

Total collections have reached the sum of $2,013,801.81 since 1899 when the custom was inaugurated.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The school committee will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. As this is a regular meeting, it is possible that any matters having to do with school affairs will be brought up. It is expected that one or two new teachers will be elected.

COOLIDGE GOES TO MAINE

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Vice President Coolidge, who arrived here yesterday from the Pacific coast, left this afternoon for Rockland, Me., where he will address a political meeting tomorrow. He will return to Boston for a brief visit before leaving for St. Paul, to deliver an address on agriculture at the Minnesota state fair.

Railroad Strike

At the final peace conference last night, it also was agreed to curtail night railroad yard service, so as to reduce night work for the men as much as possible.

With this arrangement and the further advice from Mr. Titus, that the men should use their own judgment and not attempt to use a locomotive they believe defective, the employees this morning were at their posts again, intent they said, on moving trains out of this division point as fast and as nearly on schedule as possible.

Labor Board Hearings

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The walkout of Chicago & Alton trainmen at Roodhouse, Ill., is over. Striking engine men and company officials met at Slater, Mo., in a move to end the C. & A. fight there.

The United States railroad labor board continued its hearing on the application of maintenance of way employees for increases in wages. Five men were held on charges of murder in connection with the Michigan Central wreck at Gary, Ind., Aug. 26, when two of the train crew were killed.

These were important developments in the railroad situation today, following bomb outrages, shootings, wreck plots and investigation by federal, state and private operatives during the last 24 hours.

Five Charged With Murder

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Five men were charged with murder today accused of wrecking the "Million Dollar Express" on the Michigan Central near Gary, Ind., Aug. 26, when two of the train crew were killed.

Five others were held in connection with the wreck investigation and at least two more who are known were sought, according to the police.

Confessions obtained from some of the prisoners not only solved the wreck of the express, but bare a plot to wreck the Twentieth Century Limited, the crack New York-Chicago train, near Elkhart, Ind., the police said.

The five who face the murder charges are Joseph Papourvitch, Charles Ussell, John Petrowski, Albino Alessio and James Prehatsch.

All were said to be striking shopmen.

Strikers Sue Railroad

PASCO, Wash., Aug. 28.—Twenty-eight striking Northern Pacific shopmen here are starting suits for $1000 each against the railroad because they have lost their jobs.

This is how it happened: After the strike was declared the railroad management decided to build a fence around the shops as a protection to the property and the workers. The contract for building the fence was let to a construction concern. The 28 idle shopmen immediately applied for jobs helping put up the fence and got them.

When the Northern Pacific found it out, the 28 men in their law suit, they lost their jobs. Boycott and black-listing are charged.

GERMANY TO BREAK UP BRITISH WARSHIPS

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Times understands that arrangements have been made for sending a number of old British warships to Germany to be broken up. As the admiralty's policy of late has been to refuse German offers for old vessels as scrap, it is assumed those to be sent are among a group sold several months ago.

It is reported in shipping circles that Germany is sending a navy minister in Russia for scrap metal, which would account for her keen demand for old tonnage.

LICENSE COMMISSION

At tonight's meeting of the license commission the new law relative to the sale and possession of firearms will be taken up. The law transfers the authority for the granting of permits to retailers for the sale of firearms from the city council to the license commission. The regular business of the commission will also be transacted.

O'LOUGHLIN WINS TENNIS TITLE

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—David O'Loughlin, a 19-year-old boy, not quite 14 years old, became national boys' lawn tennis champion today when he defeated M. T. Hill, Jr., of Newton, in the final match of the boys' tournament on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club. He won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3.

William T. Tilden, 2nd national champion, refereed the match.

COLLARS

Picturesque, wide collars of white satin or white georgette with wide hem-stitching and sometimes embroidery, are featured on the new fall frocks, relieving the plain necklines to which we have grown accustomed.

"Mother Why Not Try The Newer Form Of Iron"

And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable all the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old!"

The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine. There can be no healthy, beautiful rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much of what you eat your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly-looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—rosy, healthy, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any drugstore under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

Dave Rosenberg Issues Challenge

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Dave Rosenberg, who is middleweight champion of the world in New York state, has sent a challenge to fight the winner of the bout between Hambone Kelley and George Robinson, here, on Friday. Kelley is slated to fight Johnny Wilson, the champion outside of New York, if he defeats Robinson, and the consent of all parties concerned, including the Massachusetts boxing commission has been granted. Kelley and Robinson both said today that they did not wish to fight for the championship of New York state and the New Yorker's challenge was not considered.

May Not Return $250,000 Worth of Liquor

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The $250,000 stock of pre-war liquors seized from Cornelius and Dennis J. Keefe by prohibition agents several months ago, may not be returned to the owners, according to the report today by Arthur D. Hill, the master appointed by Federal Judge Morton to hear evidence on their petition to recover the liquor. The master found that the Keefe cellar was used for purposes other than that of a private cellar. The seizure was said to be the largest ever made in New England by prohibition officers and the stock consisted of large quantities of champagnes, wines, brandies and whiskies.

Passengers Given Scare in Tunnel

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Passengers on cars in the East Boston tunnel under the harbor were given a scare today when a trolley wire broke and fell across the tracks and ties. The wire short circuited, causing sparks to sear the wooden ties, and as the smoke crept into the cars many passengers rushed out and groped their way down the tunnel to Maverick Square while carmen guarded the live wire. Forty cars bearing 2000 persons were stalled for 30 minutes.

$10,000,000 FUND TO CONTROL SALE OF COAL $1.50 TO COST OF FORD

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The New York Assembly today passed by unanimous vote the administration bill proposing to create a single headed fuel commission with power to control the use, distribution and sale of coal during the coal shortage emergency and providing for the creation of a fund of $10,000,000 for the purchase and sale of coal by the state. Similar action in the senate was expected to follow soon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Present

coal prices would only add $1.50 to the price of Ford cars. Secretary Hoover declared today in expressing the hope that the Detroit automobile manufacturer would not find it necessary to close his plants because of the price of fuel.

Mr. Hoover said he noted that Mr. Ford considered $4.50 a ton a reasonable price for coal, and that the Detroit manufacturer could obtain it now at $6.50.

TO PRESERVE INDUSTRIAL PEACE

This nation during the past six months has had a most impressive lesson upon the necessity of some legal machinery for preserving industrial peace. This is evident not alone in the direction of public service corporations and the mining of coal, but also in that of other industries in which vast numbers of employees are engaged, such for example, as the textile industries.

The government is naturally concerned over the continuity of public service industries such as coal mining, railroads and various others. It should provide a means under which the railroads and all allied industries would give continuous service regardless of who should be employed. It was for this very purpose that the Railroad Labor Board was originally appointed, but as it has failed to prevent strikes, and is now practically impotent in the face of the current railroad strike, it must be invested with greater judicial powers in order to enable it to enforce its decrees, at least to the point where an appeal to a higher tribunal or to arbitration may be deemed advisable in any particular case. Any suspension or crippling of the transportation system of the country is calculated to cause serious loss, inconvenience and possibly suffering to the public. If we are to have the public and the country protected against such calamities, we must have a tribunal that will deal with the railroads in a manner that will prevent strikes and maintain continuous service. In regard to the strikes in great industries under private management, it is obvious that the present danger of strikes and lockouts is ruinous alike to employer and employee.

What is the remedy? There must be some official tribunal vested with full power to investigate, and in the absence of a voluntary settlement between the parties, to fix a fair rate of wages. There are several modes of reaching that result. In solving this problem, we may get some excellent points from Canada, which for many years past has had a law which forbids strikes until after an official investigation of the wages, the working conditions and the earnings of the industry affected. In a majority of cases the parties in conflict compose their differences when they learn the result of the investigation as it clears up many misunderstandings and supplies the actual facts from which to draw conclusions. That is not compulsory arbitration, but it serves practically the same purpose by indicating where justice lies and turning public sentiment against the party that is shown to be unfair.

Why is it that this country is so backward in framing such preventive and remedial legislation? Simply because our legislators are afraid to incur the opposition of labor organizations; but it is very evident from what we have seen during the past few months that the strikers are the principal losers in every such conflict and that if the disputes which now lead to strikes can be settled legally, amicably and fairly, it will be for the greater benefit of the workers, the employers and finally the general public whose interests and safety are usually ignored in every such conflict.

A report issued by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mediation and Arbitration shows that the wage loss from strikes in that state during the first half of this year was $117,546,465, of which fully $114,562,914 fell upon the striking miners. In the combined bituminous and anthracite fields, 340,108 miners were idle and for the first six months they had lost a total of 22,869,698 days' work; and if the calculation were brought up to August 20, the total would be 40,215,205 days. The average wage of miners is about $5 per day, and thus the total loss by the strike up to date would be $200,000,000. If the sum lost by the railroad strike in Pennsylvania be added, the total for that state would be $250,000,000. If the loss in the other states were computed and added, the total would be colossal. But it is plain that the mine owners have also suffered serious losses, while the loss to the general public in retarded business and entrapment must also have been very heavy.

If the losses resulting from the textile and other strikes were also computed, the total would be simply staggering. Here then is surely a convincing argument for a means of preventing all strikes on public service corporations and providing some means such as that which has been in operation in Canada for dealing with other labor disputes. Let it be remembered that there are also indirect and invisible losses that can never appear in any computation of this kind, but which are felt in the loss of the co-operation, the good will and efficiency which are essential in the attainment of financial success in any industry. Thus, we have overwhelming arguments in favor of some practical legal machinery for dealing with labor troubles of all kinds.

SALE OF FIREARMS

That new law to restrict the sale of pistols is one of the best passed by the legislature for many years. It is just what is needed to prevent dangerous characters from buying weapons with which to commit murder or suicide.

The license commission alone will have the authority to grant permits for the sale of pistols. No alien can purchase a pistol unless first granted a permit to carry it. A citizen who has no permit to carry a firearm must give twenty hours' notice of his intention to purchase one and the dealer is required to notify the police in order that the prospective purchaser may be investigated. Both the purchaser and the dealer are placed under strict regulations calculated to make sure of the purchase of firearms. The difficultly about the sale of law will seriously affect the sale of firearms; but it will make it impossible for cranks to run into a store at any moment to purchase a revolver for the purpose of blowing somebody's brains out. We should have had such a law long ago.

LABOR SHORTAGE PREDICTED

Wall street speculators regard the present wage advances as the forerunner of a labor shortage. This will come as a direct result of the restriction on immigration. The demand will soon fall far short of the supply and then there will be an appeal for a lowering of the bars to allow more immigrants to come in.

To allow unrestricted immigration affects labor just as free trade would affect the domestic manufacturer. Free trade will keep the price of manufactured products down to the European level and unlimited immigration would keep wages down by allowing all classes of foreigners to come here to compete with American labor. It is likely that the present immigration law will be retained for several years unless the big business interests demand its repeal.

SEIZING THE MINES

Senator Walsh's bill providing for the seizure of the coal mines needs with general favor; but the president does not favor the seizure of the railroads. Yet it will be useless to mine the coal unless the railroads distribute it to the points where it is most needed.

To seize the coal mines under present conditions is a matter of public necessity and not a socialist move as our morning contemporary alleges.

The republicans have blacklisted State Auditor Cook. They want him hounded by hook or by crook, claiming that he was elected on a fluke. Too many Cooks spoil the political broth and it certainly has been a very nauseating compound during the past year.

The action of the Lawrence mills should be followed by all the other cotton mills of New England in order to put an end to the ruinous strikes. If the mills wait much longer they are likely to receive a demand for an increase in wages from the operatives who are working.

Physicians approve a heavy breakfast, which, however, depends upon the person who eats, the nature of the food he eats, and what work he is to do after eating. There is hardly any rule of diet that can be safely followed by everybody.

The man who pleads for a truce in the civil strife in Ireland talks sense, but it must be one that the British government will approve—unless Ireland is able to exact of British authority, which is very doubtful.

Officials of the A.A.R.R. in Lawrence resigned on hearing of the death of Michael Collins. They do not wish to have any part in promoting civil war in Ireland.

Ireland's tribute to Michael Collins places him among the great men who endeared themselves to the nation by heroic sacrifice in the cause of justice and freedom.

The wage barometer shows a rising tendency all over the country. That alone should induce progressive industries to get into line.

Yocco is at least in the coal strikes we are told. That may mean a settlement in a week or it may mean another hitch and consequent delay.

A Thought

We may, if we choose, make the worst of one another. Everyone has his weak points; everyone has his faults; we may make the worst of these; we may fix our attention constantly upon them. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven.—A. P. Stanley.

Was Pretty Hungry

It was the most down-and-out-looking specimen of a tramp that had ever appeared at the back door of the little country farmhouse. The farmer's wife viewed him with disgust. "My goodness!" she cried, "I don't believe you have washed yourself for a year." "Just about that," agreed the tramp, not in the least abashed. "You see, I only washes after I eats."

Always Something

"How be Daisy join' now she's married?" asked Mrs. Giles. "She's doing grand," replied Mrs. Hobson. "She's got the prettiest little cottage with a garden an' that some real modern furniture, two pigs, an' some parson's washing to do once a week reglar. Only thing is, she can't abide her man. But there! There's allus somethin'."

Shall I Mince?

"You've made a mistake in your paper," said an indignant man, turning up to the editor of the local paper. "I was one of the competitors in the looking competition yesterday and you called me the well-known light-weight champion." "Well, aren't you?" said the editor. "No, most certainly not, and it's extremely awkward, because, you see, I'm a coal dealer."

Saving His Chum

Two boys were fishing on an English estate when a gamekeeper darted out suddenly from behind a hedge. The boys started to run. They took different directions, but the gamekeeper followed the one who shouted and seemed most frightened. After a long pursuit the boy was captured. "You've been fishing without a permit," said the keeper. "No, I haven't," replied the boy, and to the amazement of the gamekeeper, produced a permit. The gamekeeper looked at it and found it in order. Why on earth did you run away?" he said angrily. "To let the other boy get clear. He hasn't got a permit."

Today's Word

Today's word is—"approchement." It is pronounced—ac-croch-men-t. It is a French word, with the first syllable heavily accented, and the second syllable more heavily accented, but in its original French form the last syllable is pronounced about half way between "may" and "young," with the "r" heavily, if at all, touched upon, and with the syllables equally accented, a pronunciation lacking an exact equivalent in English. It means—the act or fact of coming or being drawn near or together; the establishment or state of friendly relations. It was "offered" into the English language directly from the French, "approcher," to come to approach again. It's used like this—"Some French leaders believe they have a chance to get their money more quickly and easily by an approachment with Germany than through the use of force."

True Love

Although I love you well, my dear, I cannot quite forget
My love's another year yet;
He was a careless lad and gay,
I know he dwells in May,
And to believe his half he'd say
One would be his sort dearest.

But when he smiled my heart he led
And when he sang a song,
The lift of it went through my head
A joy the whole day long!
I know your love will last for aye,
And all your vows are true,
But don't be sorry if I say
I'm less fun loving you.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

A sport that is creating a sensation among the boys is the strenuous game of tennis. I remember when I was a youngster the boys in my neighborhood didn't take kindly to the sport, partly because there was no place to play and secondly because the pastime was considered a "Willie's" game played only by the elite or by girls. With the establishment of municipal courts at Shedd park, however, the familiar phrase "O temporal O mores!" has been substituted for the classified expression describing the followers of tennis. And truly times and customs have changed. Today, a visitor at Shedd park is surprised at the number of individuals waiting for their turn to occupy the courts so well laid out there by the city. The park department has increased the interest already manifest in the game, a tournament has been arranged by the officials of the department to determine the champion of the city, and judging from the entry blanks issued to date at the tennis club, a large field of contestants will be in evidence when the tournament opens. Mr. Robert Douglas, who has been designated official matchmaker is an ardent and proficient enthusiast and is working hard to make the tennis season a success. His 14-year-old daughter, Queenie, has already won the junior playground championship and bids fair to outscore her older and more experienced rivals in the coming matches. The series will probably start next week.

Railroad officials may be justified for some reason or other in telling the public that trains are running on scheduled time and that the strike has made no noticeable change. Saturday was an exception, however, for at that particular hour and main to catch the 6.33 train and when I reached the depot, my efforts were rewarded by looking at the bulletin board only to find that said 6.33 was 40 minutes late. As my dripping clothes testified, it was raining quite hard at that particular hour. Saturday I sat down in the station to dry off, if possible. A few moments later the announcer at the station came into the main vestibule, took up a piece of chalk, rubbed off the 40 minutes late item on the bulletin board and marked 55 minutes in its stead. With that I asked him the cause of his latest maneuver and he replied that he could not explain the delay. Eventually I reached Boston, at least in time to get the last train home again.

I attended the exhibition of boxing bouts conducted in the Crescent club by the strikers last week. The occasion marked my first offence, next the famed roped arena, but it will not be my last. I hope for I was impressed by the sport from the most inappreciable semi-final to the main go featuring the old reliable Phiney Boyle. I wondered why the bouts were billed as exhibitions, for as I remarked to a friend, if these are exhibitions about the real thing must be wonderful. To one so unaccustomed to the ins and outs of fistiana, the whole thing was a delight to me. First one man was against the ropes and then the other; first one man would push over a left or right hook and then the other, and all in all it was a treat to look upon. The remarks from the gallery were exceptionally funny and amusing, not to the combatants but to the spectators. Whistles galore greeted the performance of every new card on the program and unlike the bouts themselves, the conversations were real "knockouts."

The old feather hall and pavilion at Willow Dale, known to hundreds of people and to generations is about to be sold, marking perhaps the passing of an old Dracut landmark at the date. Years ago the hall was one of the most popular places of its kind in all New England, the rendezvous of countless numbers of outing parties and fast-fashions of the season. Then came the success, I might say, of the children on picnics and excursions to Lake Massacopic. It was, in fact, the beginning of the lake's prosperity and, until a few years ago, was patronized to a great extent by out-of-town parties. It also recalled the time when the steamboat plied between this point and Lakeview proper, and for this reason its popularity was increased, because in those days a boat ride across the lake was considered a luxury of the first rank. In more recent years the big pavilion had been utilized for house parties and parties, where once the old time waiters held sway and reigned supreme. The younger folk did not apparently take kindly to the Willow Dale hospitality, with the result that it is now offered for sale and immediate disposal. Old timers will no doubt regret its passing, but it is evidently in a case of survival of the fittest.

Considerable talk has been caused during the last few days on the part of patrons who have had occasion to enter the Electric Light company office on Market street, by the strange flower resting on the desk of Miss Sutton. The flower is of the lily species, pure white in color, and its petals seem to be of wax. The flower is known as Hymenocallis arborea, a native of the Greenhouse. It was taken from a plant growing in the garden of Dr. Thomas Waller in Princeton street. Dr. Waller secured a slip of one of these plants from Italy and planted it in his garden. After much care the plant blossomed and had beautiful bell-shaped flowers. It was then that it was taken from the garden and has a hollow tube-shaped stem and draws water through it to keep it fresh. The flower is so wax like that it looks, at first glance, to be artificial.

Valuable prizes, totalling over $500 in monetary consideration, were distributed to the winners of the different sporting events held at the Jewellers' outing, which took place at the Vesper Country club last week. They varied from silver watches to gold rings by the Berlin Watch company, to two 25-piece sets of Onoda Community silver, Frederick Richard, a son of Frank Richard, the well-known Central street jeweler, won one of the silver sets, while the other was won by a Haverhill man. Some of the largest jewelry stores in New England and several outside donated prizes for the outing. For such an affair the worth of the awards given for athletic ability were certainly the "genuine goods." The feature of the day was the humor of Hon. Perry D. Thompson as least-manner. There is no one who can do a better job in that line than the genial ex-mayor and he received an enthusiastic ovation from the plebeians when introduced. Suffice to say that all went smoothly with Perry at the helm.

HITS AT VOLSTEAD LAW

Cong. Stafford Used to Enjoy Glass of Beer, Now Afraid of Being Poisoned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Taking a liking at the Volstead law in the house yesterday, Representative Stafford, republican, who lives in Milwaukee, Wis., confessed that while in the old days he enjoyed a glass of beer he did not dare look a blind tiger in the face nowadays for fear of being poisoned. A bill relating to blind alleys in the District of Columbia was up, and somebody asked about blind tigers. "Once upon a time I did not have any acquaintance with those particular denizens of the jungles," said Mr. Stafford. "But since the coming of the Volstead bill that takes away my liberties so that I can no longer indulge in the city of Washington—but he didn't finish. "That only proves the gentleman is quite unacquainted with the town," interrupted Chairman Focht of the district committee. Mr. Stafford shot back that his own acquaintance with blind tigers was not as great as that of the chairman and added:

"Prior to the reign of Volsteadism I limited my beverages to beer, good and wholesome. I cannot honestly say that to this date that has been the case. Since the reign of Volsteadism I am afraid to indulge in blind tiger stuff because of the numerous instances of poisoning."

WOMEN TO RENEW FIGHT FOR EQUALITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Lady Rhonda, who is sitting at Stoughton Court, before renewing her fight for a seat in the house of lords, declared yesterday in an interview with a representative of the national women's party that in October a committee of women "propose to tell Lloyd George exactly where the sex discrimination act has failed, and ask him what he means to do about it."

"We now say the sex discrimination act is a dud act," she said. "A few weeks ago the six point group, largely composed of the old militant group, demanded that Lloyd George receive a deputation of women who were to ask him what he proposed to do about securing full equality for women. Lloyd George has announced that he will see us in October. Thirty or 40 large organizations are sending delegates, including the former suffrage organization, the national council of women and a number of professional women's organizations."

Four of the six points of advocated legislation which gives the group their name have to do with the protection of children; the other two call for equal pay and opportunity for men and women in the teaching profession and in the civil service. Lady Rhonda said that in the 1918 election campaign in England Lloyd George promised that it would be the duty of the new government to remove all existing inequalities of the law as between men and women. After the election she said, the sex discrimination act was tremendously heralded but subsequent events undercut the women who thought it meant full equality. "The interpretation of the act in her case holding that it did not give Lady Rhonda the right to sit with the peers was, she declared, a final blow.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

WHY?

They tell me you're a wise guy, who
Can dope out any line of stuff,
An' so I'll spill my tale to you,
An' say, old scout, it's sad enough.
I banked my wad upon the Yanks,
All I had saved, an' all I'm gittin',
The team is playin' pretty, thanks,
But tell me why the Babe ain't hittin'!

There's lots of things I'd like to learn,
Like this here Einstein Theory,
An' when the world is gonna turn
Back to a state of Normalcy;
But just now all I want to know,
Of all things that's done or written,
Is only this—please put me joe,
Why ain't the old Bambino hittin'?

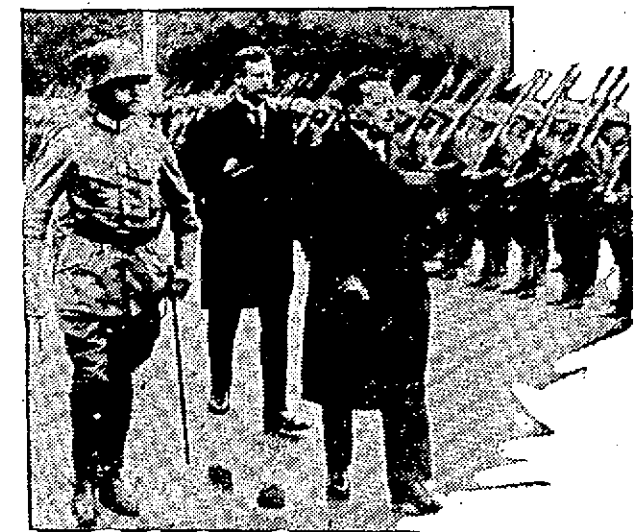

He used to boost 'em long an' high,
He used to wham 'em for a gool,
But now he hits a pop-up fly
Or simply whiffs 'em as a rule;
It's got my goat, I'm off my feed,
I've been a fan, but I'll be quittin',
Unless the Babe gets back his speed,
Aw, tell me, Doc, why ain't he hittin'?

POLICE WILL PATROL TURNPIKE

Col. Foote, director of public safety, has ordered the state constabulary to patrol the Newburyport turnpike with regularity on every Saturday, Sunday and Monday during the remainder of the summer season. The officers will be stationed along the road and will be mounted on motorcycles. This order comes as a result of the several accidents on the famous turnpike, which have been caused by speeders cutting across in front of other cars. This is a dangerous practice at this time of the year as the traffic, to and from the beaches, passing over this road is very heavy. At present the number of machines going over this road is just double as the boulevard to Haverhill, through Merrimack and Amesbury is closed. Drivers violating the motor laws on this road will be severely dealt with in the future, as Col. Foote is determined to weed out the reckless drivers.

BODY OF SOPHIE BRYANT FOUND ON ROCKS

GENEVA, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.) The body of Sophie Bryant, aged British educator, was found on the rocks along a short cut between the villages of Montanvert and Chamonix, in the Alpine region, by mushroom hunters today.

She apparently had become lost and had taken off her shoes to bathe her feet, but there was no indication of the cause of death.

Sophie Bryant was 72 years old, and the widow of Dr. William Bryant. She was widely known in England as an educational authority and was at one time a member of the consulting committee of the board of education.

BOYS ENTER STORE.
Early last night young boys entered the store of the Vermont Tea and Butter Co. at 240 Chelmsford street, and were driven away by fright before they were able to take much. The police were at the store and secured several clues as to the identity of the boys. One youngster entered a side window and had passed out two bottles of Nox and a cheese to his accomplices when they were frightened away by a noise overhead.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

COMPARED COLLINS TO JOAN OF ARC

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Michael Collins was compared to the Irish Joan of Arc for his role in the struggle for Irish freedom.

A thousand tributes were paid to this young man and remarkable Irish genius, who in the short 30 years of his life had given Ireland her place among the nations of the earth, but who like Joan of Arc, was cut down before his work was crowned with complete victory.

While the funeral mass was being celebrated in the cathedral a military band played a requiem and a military band played a requiem and a military band played a requiem.

"Michael Collins can never be buried, for his spirit will live to guide to achievement his people," he was buried in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic church. All religious joined in yesterday's wonderful national tribute. Dr. Fogarty, bishop of Killarney, was the celebrant of the mass, which was attended by a vast concourse of clergy, including Archbishop Duhan of Dublin, Australia.

Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, who was not present, but was represented by Father Edward A. Williams of St. Mary's church, Cantonville, Md. Bishop Fogarty compared Michael Collins to Joan of Arc, saying, "It seems to be God's way," he said, "but the flames that extinguished that hero's life did not destroy her work. So will it be with Michael Collins. The work he did is indestructible; he gave us more than Orleans."

"It seems but a day since he burst on the Irish stage like a youthful Samson, almost a boy, with his white face, his royal men and jet black hair, and in three years he transformed Ireland, forcing England to relax her powerful grip and winning for his country a triumph which Irish boys never dreamed of."

"Sooner or later the people will get rolling in earnest, and when they do they will make short work of the wreckers. Then will the heroic figure of Gen. Collins tower high in glory while they who contrived his death lie buried in shame."

"It was more than a great funeral," said Father Williams, giving his impressions to the Associated Press, "it was a wonderful, spontaneous national tribute of affection."

"The cortege will ever live in my memory. I can see the vast multitude standing with uncovered heads and can see the serried ranks of Ireland's fine young army as they walked slowly behind the coffin of the nation's leader. I heard the murmured prayers of the people and feel somehow that these prayers will save Ireland and that Michael Collins has not died in vain."

Judging by the expressions of the average citizen and the opinions of the newspapers, the tragic removal of the nation's two great figures, Griffith and Collins, will not weaken the course of the Free State, but on the contrary will strengthen it, first, because it is backed by public opinion, and second, what is called the martyrdom of Griffith and Collins has rallied the people around the banner of patriotism.

NEW RULES ON CHURCH WINES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New regulations covering distribution of wine for sacramental purposes in accordance with the recent opinion of Attorney General Daugherty were issued yesterday by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair to become effective Sept. 26.

The regulations provide that manufacturers or importers of sacramental wine may sell only to authorized officials of a church. Church officers may not manufacture wine for their individual use nor for the use of the congregation, but may qualify as purveyors of bonded wines for the purpose of manufacturing wine for religious purposes or may be employed by qualified wine makers to supervise the production of sacramental wines.

Distribution of sacramental wines under the regulations will be made through duly appointed officers of the churches or congregations who are prohibited from selling to others, but where it was the practice of members of congregations before the advent of prohibition to use wine for sacramental purposes in the home, it may be furnished to such households in necessary quantities.

PROBE CHARGES OF JURY TAMPERING

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—District Attorney Thomas O'Brien of Suffolk county yesterday authorized an investigation of reports that the jury which for five weeks heard testimony in the Michael Scarpone murder case had been tampered with. The jury last Saturday found two Italians guilty of murder in the second degree and decided that two others were not guilty.

Police inspectors who worked on the case, as well as interpreters at the trial, were closeted with Assistant District Attorney Maurice Calk in a late afternoon conference. The course of the reports were not indicated. Scarpone, an alleged blackhand victim, was fatally shot last January.

Council for Antonio Mascanti and Giuseppe Anzard, the men found guilty, yesterday filed motions for a new trial.

KID MCCOY PLANS HIS NINTH MARRIAGE

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Aug. 28.—Norman Selby, otherwise known as Kid McCoy, yesterday made application for a license to wed Mrs. Jacqueline A. McDowell of Baltimore, Md. The application was refused because the prospective bride was not present.

McCoy said the lady would arrive noon, and he had passports for the two to make a trip to the Orient, following the ceremony.

This will be McCoy's ninth marriage, according to local statisticians.

Picturesque Story of "One-Eyed Connelly of Lowell"

JAMES
CONNELLY

Have you ever heard of James "One-Eyed" Connelly, the world's champion gate crusher? A famous guy in James. He has seen every important prize fight since 1887 and has never paid a cent for a seat. He has traveled more than 200,000 miles to see these various battles and never dished out a penny for any.

Connelly is an old fighter. He fought back in the eighties as a student under Jimmy Gardner. His career was blighted by half blindness, dating from a ring battle in which the face of his glove struck the pupil of his left eye, destroying the sight. But the love for the game is still in him and if he doesn't see a fight "there won't be none."

Connelly began his "gate crushing" system in California. It was a particular fight in Vernon, some three hundred miles from Fresno, that he began the rattle, in his ex-ness, and beat it. He climbed the fence the day before the fight and slept under the stands. When the going sounded he was there. That was the start.

Just one ticket

He witnessed his first battle in 1887 between Sullivan and Ryan, at Richmond, Mass. Connelly paid to see that fight. He paid 15 bucks and traveled right to the gate. But when he got there he found that a gang of bullies had commandeered his seat

HE GOT TIPPED OUT OF HIS SEAT TO THE SULLIVAN-IRISH BOUT AND REQUIRED HE'D NEVER BUY ANOTHER

HE! HE!

SINCE THEN HE'S BEEN ALL THE IMPORTANT BOUTS IN THE WORLD AND NEVER PAID A CENT giving odds as to whether "One-Eyed" would be on hand or not. But he said he would, and when the going sounded—he was.

He saw Dempsey battle Carpentier. Rickard fixed him up. He planted him at the end of the arena, as Connelly puts it, "over in East Orange." He kept working his way down the pine boards, however, was kicked from seat to seat, and finally, when the going sounded—he was at the ringside.

Champion of All Classes

His most recent sneak was the Leonard-Tender bout. Connelly passed the gate with an old pair of boxing gloves. He told the attendant that he had been commissioned to present them to the winner, that he had been sworn by Battling Keelo when he was champion of the universe in all classes.

Connelly predicted the Dempsey-Dempsey outcome, also the Dempsey-Carpentier finale.

"Willard never can condition himself to do justice, he's past it," he can't "come back," says Connelly.

"As for Willard," he continues, "ha-ha, don't be funny! Say, he'll do a dive in one round, I'll bet my soul on it."

Still James "One-Eyed" Connelly is on his way.

He's down from Boston, bound for New Orleans for a seventh time. He's traveled to Australia four times.

Eighteen times to California. Four times to the Hawaiian Islands. And all for nothing.

YANKS INCREASE LEAD ON BROWNS

Superb Pitching by Bob Shawkey for 11 Innings Brings Victory

Brooklyn Lost 11-Inning Tilt to Pirates—Athletics and White Sox Split Even

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Superb pitching by Bob Shawkey for 11 innings enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Browns and lengthen their lead over the St. Louisans to a game and a half. The victory gave the Yanks the series, 3 to 1.

Urban Shocker, who won the first game of the four for the Browns, opposed Bob Shawkey and had good control, but the Yankee punch, delivered at the right moment, prevented him from carrying his club into the lead.

The Athletics and the White Sox divided honors in a double header. Home's wild throw in the fifth helped Chicago to its victory in the first game, 6 to 3. Home runs by Scheer, the Philadelphia third sacker, and Miller, Jack's right fielder, were big factors in the Philadelphia triumph in the second, 10 to 2.

Brooklyn lost an 11-inning tilt to the Pirates 4 to 3, when Catcher Miller heaved wildly to the outfield in an attempt to catch Carey's steal. Higgins' hit following scored the winning run.

BATTLE AT CORK BEFORE COLLINS' DEATH

Here are Irish Free State troops ready for action as a landing expedition neared the shore at Cork. This action resulted in the capture of one of the few remaining strongholds of the rebels. This strategy was one of the last acts performed by the Free State troops under the command of Michael Collins, recently slain near Cork.

NATIONAL LAWN TENNIS TO USE HIP POCKETS

DOUBLES TOURNEY

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The weather was fair today for the third attempt to play the final match of the national lawn tennis doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket club. The courts, which have been under a three days' downpour, were protected by tarpaulins and with two hours of sun and wind Reference Judge Sheafe said they would be fit for play.

The contenders, W. T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, playing through champions, and Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, had kept hammering during the tournament at the club's covered courts. Because the championship is a turf event, it was not possible to decide it indoors. The other final events put over, the national boys and junior singles, the national mixed doubles, and the women's singles, were to be decided on the same program.

Captain Patterson of the Australians, who regards his team's chances of winning the Davis cup as only one in four, said that regardless of the result, he thought Australia would be a contender again next year.

He and O'Hara Wood, probably would not be able to spare the time another year, they indicated.

But James A. Anderson, the third member of the Australian team, will be available again, and South Australia has at least two budding stars that will be able to support him.

In Stuart, a player of remarkable steadiness and bone, a giant of 6 feet, 4 inches in height, with an especially strong service, Patterson said that he thought the Australians could muster strength that would warrant the world tourney, if United States' team should Australia win, he said his service and those of O'Hara Wood with other players' strength would be at his country's disposal to defend the cup.

CLUB WILL HAVE FAST BASKETBALL TEAM

At last night's meeting of the Highland Quintet, held at the Y.M.C.A. definite plans were made concerning the basketball team the club plans to put on the floor this winter. This club is made up of members of the young men's department of the Y.M.C.A. and they have always put a fast basketball team into the field. The members intend to enter their team in a league with some of the surrounding clubs.

The club is made up as follows: Albert Deane, president and manager of the team; Walter Browning, team captain; Orlan Smith, secretary; Bruce Douglas, treasurer; Abraham Ratchin, Harry Barton, Herbert Neild, Robin Buchanan, and Chester Patton, members.

ON GRIDIRON THIS FALL IN WEST

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Sweet, sweet to the ears of Washington university is the wall of Andy Smith over the hard job he's having to provide a good lineup for the University of California this season.

Where the Golden Bear is lacking, the Huskies are in clover, and this year the central quintet will average at least 150 pounds of fast football players.

New to Coast

With the exception of Bob Ingram, tackle and captain of this year's eleven, all the linemen are new to the Pacific coast conference, as at present constituted.

Bob Ingram, who was picked by Walter Camp in 1917 for Camp's all-American second team, is reputed to be the greatest tackle ever produced on the coast, will be back in school this fall, eligible to play. Ingram is a 200-pounder, a first class player, and much is expected of him.

Another valuable addition to the Washington line is Jimmy Bryan, a 200-pounder, a first class player, and much is expected of him.

The game doesn't affect the present standing of the two clubs, as it was called because of the rain in the first half of the game. The Chicago players contended that the Yankees stalled in an effort to avoid defeat. Umpire O'Brien and the jury in their reports to President Johnson censured several players on both clubs.

The "base play" of both teams was highly reprehensible, and a gross imposition to the fans, Pres. Johnson said. "Incidents of this sort are not repeated in such league baseball, but every clear-thinking club owner should make an honest stand to wipe out crude performances of this character."

Manager Huggins' report is a frank admission of the guilty tactics employed by the New York club. He played the most important part in the program of stalling. We cannot condone the conduct of a man filling a position of such responsibility.

President Johnson warned that a repetition would result in a ten-day suspension for Manager Huggins without salary.

YANKEE AND WHITE SOX PLAYERS FINED

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Manager Miller Huggins and four members of the New York Yankees club and three players of the Chicago Americans were fined by Ban Johnson, president of the American league, yesterday in connection with the protested New York-Chicago game here on August 1. Huggins drew the largest fine—$100. The others were assessed $25 each.

The finest against the New York players was imposed for what President Johnson termed "the disgraceful exhibition of stalling" in the contest which resulted in a protest by the Chicago club.

The New York players fined, in addition to Manager Huggins, were Bob Meusel, Everett Scott, Walter Hoyt and Willie Hough of the Chicago Americans who also were fined were Brian Faber, Bill Falk and Ray Sealek. The game will be played over, President Johnson said.

HARRY WILLS MEETS TUT JACKSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Harry Wills, New Orleans, Negro heavyweight, hopes to convince boxing followers tonight that he has some of the necessary qualifications for a champion.

Wills is to battle Tut Jackson of Washington, Conn. Jackson, also a Negro, is a heavyweight, and has won 15 rounds at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Unusual interest has centered around the match because of Wills' prominence in the heavyweight title situation and of the reports of Jackson's punching power.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Joffrey defeated the St. Joseph's Cadets last Sunday by the score of 17 to 0. For games call 1748-31.

The Durants challenge the Merrills for a game at Shedd park Saturday afternoon for a 35-cent ball.

The Varnum Independents would like to play the Emerald Sevens, a three game series for a purse of $10, the same to be played next Saturday, Sunday and Labor day. It is now up to Manager Gauthier to put up or shut up.

Last Saturday's games between the Joffrey, Foxwicket Giants and Emeralds were postponed until next Saturday on account of rain. If these teams agree to the postponement, ring 622-8 and inform the manager of the Emeralds.

Tonight the Emerald Sevens will play the Matthews Stars. Tomorrow they will play the Red Sox All-Stars and the Warriors on Thursday. The challenge of the Young Yankees for a game on the North common at 2 o'clock Friday is also accepted.

The Foxwicket Blues defeated the St. Ann's 10 to 2 in a recent game. Sheo of the Blues made three classy catches in center field. Next Sunday the Blues will play the C.M.A.C. Cadets on the Woodward avenue ground.

THE C. M. A. C. AND SALEM TOWN TEAM

The C.M.A.C.-Salem town team game, scheduled for last night on the Tex. ground, was postponed until tomorrow on account of rain. As the first encounter between the two teams should prove a hummer, with Conlon, Nash, Donovan, Davies and Gautreau, the Salem team has one of the strongest in New England.

The C.M.A.C. will probably have Ed Cawley at short, while Peterson or Hobson will do the twirling. All games will be opened at 8 o'clock sharp. C.M.A.C. players are requested to meet at the club house at 7 o'clock tonight.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

READVILLE, Aug. 29.—Bright sunshine today promised to dry out the Readville track and put it in excellent shape for the opening of the Grand Circuit races, put over from yesterday because of rain. Horsemen showed especial interest in the Frodo, in which a fast field headed by Margaret Dillon, was entered.

The racing card today included also the Readville farm stake, 2.38, with a purse of $3000, the Fair Oaks Parin stake, three year old trot, 2.16 trot and a Horze Breeders' futurity for two year olds.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES

The Butler A.A. 2nd football team has issued a call to all candidates for the 1922 eleven. All former players are requested to meet at the club rooms next Friday night.

DEAD MAN AT WHEEL OF AUTO

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Seeing a rapidly moving automobile approaching a group of children playing at Somer street and Stone avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, and hearing their frightened screams, pedestrians rushed to the scene in time to see the car swerve from the roadway across the sidewalk and crash into an iron fence in front of an apartment house.

The car bounced back and plunged forward again, indicating that the power had not been shut off. Several men hurried forward and shut off the engine and found a man slumped down in the driver's seat. He was dead.

Policemen from the Ralph avenue station were summoned and from papers in the pockets of the dead man, they identified him as W. C. Crane, a well-to-do member of Amityville, L. I. It is believed that he died of apoplexy induced by fear when he thought he was about to injure the children in the path of his car.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT SHEDD PARK

The big tennis tournament, conducted under the auspices of the park department, to determine the championship of the city, will get under way at the Shedd park courts this evening when the first contest will take place at 8 o'clock. Mr. Robert Michign, official matchmaker, has made the following selections after a careful examination of the records of the contestants.

First round: Hart vs. Adams; C. Turnbull vs. Henry; Condy vs. J. Turnbull.

Wednesday: Eigenbroel vs. Donohoe; Marshall vs. Jack McMorley.

Thursday afternoon: Bailey vs. Collins; Morrill vs. Downey; Brockmeyer vs. Price; W. McArthur in first draw.

The above names are all registered in the novice class, this being their first appearance in a regulation tournament. The winners of the preliminary set will then be eligible to compete in the Class A tournament, which will follow in the near future.

With troops lining the way and a military escort accompanying the hearse, the funeral cortege of Arthur Griffith, late head of the Irish Free State, moves from St. Vincent's hospital to Dublin city hall. Thousands thronged the way. Just such a scene was enacted a few days later at the funeral of Michael Collins, the assassinated successor of Griffith.

$10,000 IN JEWELRY AND $400 IN CASH STOLEN

RYE BEACH, N. H., Aug. 29.—Robbers who Sunday night gained entrance to the summer homes of Henry N. Matthews of Waban, Mass., and A. D. Swift of Chicago, in the fashionable colony at Allen's corner, took jewelry valued at $10,000 from the first residence and about $400 in money from the latter. Portsmouth and county police officials were notified yesterday. In both homes valuable necklaces were untouched.

No evidence of the manner in which the intruders gained access was available and the police, after investigating, refused to say whether they believed the robberies were committed by professionals or persons in close touch with the households. The doors of the Swift home are fitted with old-fashioned locks and large keys. These were found to be in the exact positions in which they were left when the occupants of the house retired Sunday night.

In the Matthews house during the robbery were 12 persons, including four guests, two children and the servants. The only room not ransacked was one occupied by maids. None of the 12 reported being disturbed during the night. One of the maids admitted that she had heard a noise during the night, as though some one had stumbled over an obstacle in the yard but had thought nothing of it at the time.

Included in the stolen property were rings, necklaces, bracelets and other jewels. The pearl necklaces left the Matthews home is valued at $10,000 while that left at the Swift home was said to be worth $500. About $350 in money was taken from pockets of the men guests at the Matthews home. The money taken from the Swift home was on a mantle in one of the rooms.

A search about the premises yesterday led to the discovery of a jewel box and several women's handbags and pocket-books in the butler's pantry of the Matthews house.

Both Sheriff Spinney of Rockingham, county and Chief Michael Hurley of the Portsmouth police were busy on the case yesterday but said last night they had uncovered nothing that would assist in tracing the robbers.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Lloyd George this morning, in conversation with Colonel E. M. House, who breakfasted with the premier, reiterated Great Britain's intention to discharge her present debt to the United States to the last farthing, Colonel House told the Associated Press.

Col. House said the premier begged him to tell those at home that Great Britain was not seeking financial assistance from the United States, but desired very earnestly her continued moral support.

COOLIDGE OPENS BIG GRAPHIC ARTS SHOW

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A graphic arts exposition was formally opened in the Mechanics building yesterday afternoon by Vice President Calvin Coolidge, who, after emphasizing the power of the printed word, pressed the button which flooded the halls with light and set in motion printing presses and other machinery utilized by the printing crafts. With the vice president on the platform was Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis, the great-granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin.

Mr. Coolidge in his address stressed the moral responsibility of those in charge of printing the news of the world, insisting that the point had now been reached where the power of the press should be utilized for the unbridling of law and order rather than for its further development commercially.

"The newspapers," he said, "during this period of industrial strife have a tremendous opportunity of leading the way to a better understanding of our industrial problems, through sane, informing and constructive journalism."

"Distribution will take care of itself if production can be established on a firm basis, and no single agency in the world is so potent as the press in bringing about improved conditions."

Unanimous endorsement of a plan to erect a permanent graphic arts building on the grounds of the 1926 sesqui-centennial exposition at Philadelphia was given by the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen at the opening session of its convention here yesterday morning.

The proposal as outlined by President William R. Goodheart of New York would provide for the housing of all world exhibits of products, processes and history of printing and its allied industries and arts. Final action will be taken later during the convention.

LOCAL BOYS ADVANCED AT CAMP DEVENS

A number of boys and men from this section, now in training at the citizens' military camp at Camp Devens have been provisionally appointed as non-commissioned officers in general orders number four, which were issued last week. The advancement took effect immediately as they were issued.

The following from this section were appointed: Paul F. Albertini of Billerica, lance corporal, B company, first battalion; Wallace McQuinn of Lowell, corporal, C Co., first battalion; Samuel G. Battles of Andover, corporal, A company, second battalion; John T. Maguire of Lowell, sergeant, A company, third battalion; Frank F. Hobson of Lowell, first sergeant, C company, third battalion; Walter W. Sawyer of Methuen, sergeant, third battalion; Charles A. Banlett, Jr., of Billerica, corporal, C company, seventh battalion.

FROSTING

Of Columbia University
By BERTHA SHAPLEIGH
A very simple frosting is made by mixing 4x confectioner sugar with cream, hot water or fruit juice until of a consistency to spread. When fruit juice is not used add a few drops of vanilla or any preferred flavoring extract. Fresh strawberries or raspberry juice make a very prettily colored frosting, and orange—a very good tasting one. If chocolate is desired, melt one ounce of candy squares and mix confectioners sugar until of the right consistency.

YOUNG MEN FORM BACHELOR CLUB

Several young men of North Chelmsford recently formed an association which they called "The Inatetobett Bachelor club." Meetings are held weekly at the homes of the various members and the topics of discussion are on a remarkably high cultural plane.

It is not necessary for a member of this bachelor club to be positively antagonistic to the fair sex, but discussion or talk of women is taboo at the meetings. The entire time of the meeting is given over to the criticism and discussion of art, music, science, politics, and current events, in fact everything that is beautiful but the women.

Matrimonial tendencies are cause for immediate expulsion from the club but the charter does not demand that the young men cut off all social engagements when they become enrolled as bachelors. Plans for the fall and winter months are now in the making and the boys have some entertaining ideas that they will put into execution. The people of the town expect much from this newly formed club but say that there will be two or three vacancies in this organization before the snow flies.

The crowd apparently knows what a gun is, according to authorities on the bird.

The steamships Majestic and Leviathan are each one hundred feet wide.

FORD IN CLOSING PLANTS BEGINS FIGHT FOR GREAT PRINCIPLE

Takes Up Battle Against Alleged Profiteering in Coal—Believes He is Doing Other Manufacturers as Well as Every Workingman a Real Service

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Henry Ford, in announcing Saturday that his plants would be closed Sept. 16 because of conditions in the coal industry, began a fight for what he believes is a great principle, the Associated Press was informed today in sources close to the manufacturer. Mr. Ford, it was stated, has started what he declares is a fight against alleged profiteering in coal and that he believes he is in a better position perhaps to do so than any one else. He feels it was stated, that by taking up the fight he is doing every other manufacturer, as well as every workingman throughout the country, a real service. Mr. Ford denies there is a coal shortage. The investigations of his representatives have convinced him, it was stated, that coal brokers of the country have an enormous supply of coal on hand, and the Ford Motor Co. could obtain coal enough to cover a tract ten acres square if it would submit to being victimized by profiteers, it was declared. For several weeks, it was asserted, the Ford offices at Dearborn have been flooded with offers of coal with deliveries guaranteed. It was declared the prices asked have ranged from 100 to 300 per cent. above the normal cost.

Strikers Demand Open Shop—Get It

BROCKTON, Aug. 28.—Twenty union edgemakers employed in the Joseph F. Corcoran Shoe Co.'s factory here went on strike today demanding an open shop, insofar as ventilation was concerned. They won, and with the windows open, they returned to their benches. The workers left their places when, having found the windows closed, they opened them, only to have the foreman close them, the performance being repeated several times. Officials explained that the windows were closed to keep the damp air from spoiling shoes and stock.

Hotel Exclusively For Working Girls

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Girls in business in New York next Spring will have a hotel of their own, where the restrictions will be no more than in the average hotel. Charles B. Webster of H. H. Macy & Co., bequeathed a third of his fortune for a hostelry exclusively for working girls. Mr. Webster left instructions that the hotel was to avoid all the earmarks of an institution and that no money was to be made from the endowment. The building will cost $740,000, with a liberal endowment left for operating expenses.

Young Rollins Held in $5000

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Robert F. Rollins, younger brother of George Rollins and Charles Rollins, who are under conviction of the killing of two chain store managers, was arraigned on a charge of assault and robbery today and held in $5000 bail. George A. Kinsman, who with Rollins is alleged to have attacked and robbed Walter Billig in a lunch room early Saturday morning, was held in $3000.

Peach Farmers Appeal to Motorists

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Hampered by the lack of cars due to the railroad strike, farmers of western New York who are having the largest peach crop in 15 years have appealed to motorists to help relieve them of the surplus. In this city peaches are selling for 30 cents a basket, wholesale.

Maker of Great Seal of the U. S. Dead

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Max Zeidler, maker of the present Great Seal of the United States and a widely known steel engraver, died in a hospital here yesterday. He was 65 years old.

BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF "HERRIN MASSACRE"

MARION, Ill., Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—More than two months after 26 non-union workers at the Lester strip mine were killed in what has come to be known as the "Herrin massacre," an official investigation was started today. The 26 lost their lives in separate attacks June 21 and June 22, the greater number the second day, when they were herded from the pit and, according to eyewitnesses, brutally shot, beaten and cut to death. That the investigation would be fair and far-reaching, was indicated by the announcement of Edward J. Brundage, Illinois attorney-general, that neither miner nor coal operator had been put on the especially called grand jury. Mr. Brundage has been assisted in the preliminary work by C. W. Middlekauff, representing the federal department of justice. Among witnesses summoned are Sheriff Thaxton, his deputies and Corporal William McGowan.

$15,000 FIRE AT OSSIPEE, N. H.
OSSIEPEE, N. H., Aug. 28.—Fire today destroyed Carroll Inn and a garage, five automobiles and several motor cycles, the total loss being $15,000. The blaze started in the garage at the rear of the hotel from the back firing of an automobile. Guests formed a bucket brigade and help was called from Wolfboro. Eight automobiles were saved.

MOB THREATENS NEGRO BRYAN URGES ACTION

500 Surrounded Jail—Three Negro-Owned Buildings Burned at Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Aug. 28.—More than 500 persons who surrounded the Electric, Tex., city hall and jail threatening John Love, 25 year old negro porter for an alleged attack on a white girl, thinned out early today after three incendiary fires directed at negro-owned property. Mayor Calvert said the entire affair would be investigated and charges preferred against those who fired a negro restaurant, church, and residence.

PLUNGED DOWN CHIMNEY

New Bedford Man Saved Through Formation of Human Chain and Sheer Grit

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 28.—Plunging 40 feet down the chimney at the North mill into the hot soot over the boilers, here yesterday morning Geo. Hoshman of this city was saved from the menace of fatal burns through the formation of a human chain by fellow workers and his own sheer grit in effecting his rescue. He was burned from his ankles to his hips, but will recover. Only the fact the boiler had been hanked over Sunday and the accumulation of soot saved Hoshman from immediate death. Because the fire would have been fanned into flame with the opening of the boiler door, he could not be rescued from the boiler room.

KILLED FARMER AND CUT UP HIS BODY

FARMINGTON, Me., Aug. 28.—Franklin county officials planned to arraign in the municipal court today John Williams, the 29 year old farm hand, alleged to have confessed to them that he killed Joseph Thorne, 51, a former employer, at New Sharon, Sunday, with a gun obtained from a neighbor, then cut up the body and placed the head, limbs and torso in bags with the intention of sinking them in a river at night. Corps added in the finding of the body of the missing man in a pasture.

GEN. EDWARDS TO DECORATE VETERANS

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Major General Clarence R. Edwards, will decorate several veterans with the Distinguished Service Medal at Camp Devens tomorrow. Private Joseph P. O'Brien of Providence, R. I., for heroism in action; Major William P. Vardell of New Haven, Conn., and Major Elliot C. Cutler of Brookline for services as surgeons in France, and Major Rene Hoyer, professor of military training at Yale university, for service as commandant of the field artillery school at Fort Hill will be among those honored.

FINEST BOOK EVER PRODUCED IN N. E.

WORCESTER, Aug. 28.—A one copy edition of what is said to be the finest book ever produced in New England is to be presented tonight to President Harding at the closing banquet of the New England Typothetae in Boston. The book, which was prepared and printed in Worcester, is valued at $1000. It contains sketches and portraits of historic men and events in New England printed on the last of the handmade paper produced in New England in 1822. The presentation will be made to the president through Senator Lodge or Vice President Coolidge tonight, and the book will be taken to Washington later by a committee of New England printing craftsmen.

Charge Attempt to Blow Up Car Shops at Danville, Ill.—Head of C. & A. Road Promised Striking Crews Everything But Road if They Returned—Men Yield and Train Service Resumes

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 28.—A series of four explosions early this morning shattered windows and demolished long strips of yard track in the shops of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road here. It was believed that an attempt had been made to destroy the entire shops. One bomb had been planted near the main entrance of the yard.

Greenhalge and North Common Playgrounds Scenes of Happy Gatherings—Elaborate Programs and Ideal Weather—Playground Season Has Been Very Successful

When the children of the Varnum, Lakewell, Greenhalge and North Common playgrounds gathered at the latter place this afternoon, and those of the North common and Alton street assembled at the North common, it marked the first step in the grand finale of the most successful playground season in the history of the city of Lowell. An ideal day with perfect weather prevailing lent a degree of enchantment to the elaborate programs of song, dance, recitation and play which were presented in masterly style by the representatives of the various little communities. Today's events were indeed novel, the park department's new policy of playground closing being differentiated from that pursued in previous years by the fact that each ground was given the opportunity for individual performances. In past years it has been customary to hold a monster joint closing on the South common with

SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

Senate Consideration Near End—Final Vote May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senate consideration of the soldiers' bonus bill neared an end today, but some senators doubted that the hope of those in charge of the measure for a final vote before adjournment tonight would be realized. Half a dozen or more amendments remained to be acted upon and, in addition, a number of senators desired to deliver addresses on the bill itself as well as the various changes proposed.

Amendments included the Smith-McNary $250,000,000 reclamation plan; the Smoot sales tax proposal as a means of raising the necessary funds; the Smoot paid-up insurance plan in lieu of all options; the Bureau half cash, half credit proposition and two proposals by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, a cash bonus and a plan under which the veterans could apply their bonus money on the premium of their converted government life insurance.

Supporting the bonus, Senator Col-

Republican, Rhode Island, told the senate that though the pending bill should fail to become a law, the cause will not die and in the end the American people will insist upon the passage of a similar measure.

Distinguished Visitor Will Address Mass Meeting in A. O. H. Hall This Evening

Lowell today was visited by a man of international fame when Prof. Sankar Nath Ghose of Calcutta, India, national director of the Friends of India, called upon Mayor George H. Prof. Ghose came here well recommended and was accompanied on his visit to the mayor by a delegation from Central Council, A.O.H. The mayor granted the permit for a tag day, which will be held Sept. 16.

GRABLE APPEALS TO HARDING

Wants Congress to Amend Law to Force Labor Board to Define "Living Wage"

Hearing on Plea of Maintenance Men for Wage Increase Adjourned

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press) The Railroad Labor board today denied the motion of W. Jell Lauck, labor statistician, that the board immediately define the principle of "a living wage" in the case of the maintenance of way employees who are seeking increased minimum rates of pay. At the request of E. F. Grable, president of the maintenance organization, the hearing then was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Mr. Grable announced that he was telegraphing President Harding and Senator Cummins, one of the authors of the transportation act, at Washington today, asking them to present to congress an amendment to the act which would make it mandatory on the labor board to "enunciate the principle of the living wage."

The board in its ruling on Lauck's request declared it could not go beyond the transportation act which prescribed the establishment of "just and reasonable" wages.

ALLEGED GAS NOISANCE

Quick Action Taken as Result of Story Appearing in The Sun

People who live in the vicinity of Fletcher, Worthen and Dutton streets will be pleased to hear that some action is being taken by city authorities to abate the gas nuisance in that section.

Yesterday the matter was brought out in The Sun and Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health immediately took up the matter with officials at the gas plant.

This morning Mayor George H. Brown stepped in and urged that something be done at once to remedy the alleged nuisance. He talked with Agent O'Hare relative to the matter and suggested that catch basins and man-holes be cleaned in that section more often.

Some time today Agent O'Hare and P. W. Parham, sewer engineer from the city engineer's office, will visit the locality and will attempt to trace the source of the gases.

The residents point to the fact that the smell is not something that suddenly came upon them for a day only, but that the nuisance is of long standing.

Last Sunday the climax was reached when the odor became so offensive that people were made sick and compelled to close their windows during part of the day to shut out the ranker fumes.

A talk with almost any resident in that section will convince one that it is something wrong somewhere, either with the sewers or the methods used to carry away waste materials.

If the Turks have actually invaded Afium Karahissar, as reports in the Central News despatch indicate, it would mean a serious blow to the Greek fortunes in Asia Minor, in the opinion of military observers here familiar with the Anatolian conflict. Afium Karahissar is a vital key position on the Berlin-Bagdad railway and constitutes one of the most important supply bases of the Greek army.

IRREGULARS FIRED ON MURDER OF JOHN BERGEN

COLLINS MOURNERS

BELEFAST, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) Republican irregulars fired upon a congregation of mourners yesterday as they were leaving a Westport (Mayo) church, having attended mass in honor of Michael Collins, says a message received today by the Athlone correspondent for the Belfast Telegraph.

The correspondent telegraphed his paper that the Athlone military headquarters was without official knowledge of the reported shooting, but the unofficial message stated that five civilians were killed and several others wounded.

The Republicans fired at the worshippers from across an adjacent river, the message said, and men, women and children fled in all directions as volleys were poured in from their directions. Troops vigorously repelled the firing, and a stiff engagement ensued after the arrival of reinforcements, but the Republicans were finally driven from the town.

INCREASE IN NUMBER SENT TO LYMAN SCHOOL

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The number of boys committed to the Lyman school at Westboro during the last year increased 23 per cent. over the previous year, according to a report made public today by the board of trustees, in an effort to trace the cause of each boy's fall from grade an analysis of the home conditions of each was compiled.

The report said that every one of the 341 boys committed this year attended church, one-third of them used tobacco, and 10 per cent had interrupted fathers. Nineteen were orphans.

Lack of work and general industrial conditions, probably accounted in a large measure for the increases, the report added. Most of the boys were committed for larceny or breaking and entering.

"Mysterious Blonde" Tells of Slaying—Authorities to Present Case to Grand Jury

EDGEWATER, N. J., Aug. 29.—The story of Alice Thornton, the young movie actress who has revealed what preceded the slaying of "Daredevil" John Bergen, at the home of George Cline, film location man, last Friday night, today led county authorities to announce they were ready to present the case to the grand jury on Sept. 8.

Miss Thornton's story, told last night after a search for a "mysterious blonde" which ended at her New York apartment, was supplemented by Joseph Lurilo of Grapewood, N. J., who also was at the Cline home when Bergen met his death. Authorities expected to examine both witnesses again today.

Cline's confession that he shot Bergen while he and Bergen were mounting to the attic of the Cline home to fight a duel over Mrs. Cline, was discredited by the testimony of Miss Thornton and Lurilo, authorities declare.

Both told how Bergen, accused by Mr. and Mrs. Cline, admitted his guilt. A few minutes later, Miss Thornton is alleged to have related, they heard a shot and Bergen staggered down the stairs to the street, where he was found dying. Lurilo corroborated her story, stating that when Cline came down from the attic he said: "You can go home now, I'll see you some other time."

WAGE REDUCTION BY ARBITRATION BOARD

Today's decision completes the re-adjustment with the exception of two locals, the women's stitchers and the packing room workers. Employers and representatives of the United Shoe Workers of America are represented on the arbitration board.

FOR PEACE IN IRELAND

Noted Irishman Urges Five Years' Trial of Treaty—Quotes Collins

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) An appeal to the opponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty to cease hostilities and give the treaty a trial was issued yesterday by P. W. Kenner, widely known as chairman of the Waterford county council.

Kenner announced that in a conversation he had with Michael Collins several months ago Collins expressed very emphatic views regarding the treaty and the possibilities which it presented for the development and progress in Ireland, but was still more emphatic on Ireland's right to absolute independence and his determination to attain that end by every national means.

"The prospect of civil war in Ireland," said the appeal, "seemed to cause Collins grave anxiety. He described it as the crowning misfortune of any country, but particularly of a fighting race. He said he would exhaust every possible channel of concession and compromise to avert such a dire catastrophe, and I feel convinced today that if he could have spoken as intimately and with the same ardor to his opponents and given to them with equal candor his well-reasoned conclusions no man amongst them would do him injury."

"I am further of the opinion that the lives of many other good Irishmen may still be saved if the leaders on both sides of the present conflict arrange a truce in order that the position to which the country is drifting be calmly reviewed and some agreement reached by which a stop may be put to further sacrifice of valuable lives and the useless destruction of property."

"I take it that at the outset it would be found that there was no difference."

every playground in the city represented. As a result, the exhibitions, though praiseworthy, did not provide the personal or individual touch so noticeable in today's exercises.

At the North common, a large gathering of parents and interested spectators surrounded the space where a miniature show of unusual merit was given by the children of the Alken and North common playgrounds, and under the direction of Supervisors Miss Charlotte Green and Miss Mary Kelly, assisted by Miss Rosa Brown, Miss Ruby Blain and Miss Alice Gallagher. The youngsters simply revealed in industry and their last jazz exhibit, most impressive one. The solos, choruses and other features were carried out without interruption, showing the result of careful teaching and study.

The program follows: Opening chorus; Dixie, Ten Little Pigeons; O'Neil, Duck, Lie to Sleep; Skirt dance; Esther Marshall, Solo, "Granny"; Eugene Cummings, Song and dance; "My Sunny Tennessee"; Milda Roberts, Song, "Dapper Dan"; Bessie Abel and chorus; Duet, "Birds of a Feather"; "Crazy Shoes"; House Whirl and Theresa Dalton, Exhibition; Solo, Lillian and Ida Lester; Solo, "Yoo Hoo"; Francis Garrigan, Gold Dust Twins; Ray Sheridan and Harold Thomas, Piano; Mary and Helen Cummings and Sheridan, Song; Sadie Gorollak and chorus; Acrobatic feature; Irene Richards, The Sheik; Alice Coomer, Finale, "When Shall We Meet Again."

Following the completion of the program, Mr. Harvey B. Greene of the park commission, and Superintendent John W. Kernan of the same department, presented the prizes to the winners of the various contests conducted throughout the season. Medals, bursas, gold and silver cups, and ribbons and other emblems of victory were distributed to the lucky individuals.

GREENHOLM SCHOOL

At 3 o'clock at the Greenholme school, the Varium and Lakewood avenue children presented their own distinctive programs, which proved but a repetition of the North common success. The Greenholme group, supervised by Miss Helen Mann, opened the festivities with the salute to the flag and the singing of The Star Spangled Banner, rendered in two patriotic fashion. This was followed by an exciting dodge ball game between the junior and senior organizations, a novelty dance "slide and slide" by the juniors and a Norwegian mountain march by the seniors. Then came the game of golf and golf with Helen and Anna Barrett in the feature roles. A step dance by Stephanie Gavotte, a call ball contest and a dance, "Seven Jumps" concluded a most interesting program.

The stage was then adapted to the Lakewood avenue contingent under Miss Agnes Dudley, and her little charges resembled a fairyland in miniature with dances and imitations extraordinary. The complete program follows: Special dances, jockey, parasol, Columbia and Highland Fling. Group dance for juniors, Mother Goose.

Hot dress buns, Bean Porridge, Hey Diddle, Diddle Diddle, Pickory Dock, Mistress Mary, Little Bo-Peep, Jack Black Sheep, Vineyard and Virginia reel dances. The Varium presentation, arranged

BY HORPENSE SAUNDERS

Once people tried to reform the dancers; now dancers are turning the tables and are going to reform the people—that is if they are not beyond redemption.

We are always in need of a reformation, it appears, but fortunately for us, the agencies change from time to time.

The International Association of Masters of Dancing and the American by Miss Martha Gallagher kept the large audience enraptured during the progress of their last and best appearance in the playground limelight. A fairy dance by Phyllis Grant and Catherine Kearns and an impersonation of "The Noblemen" by Gertrude Whelton and Francis Mullin spoke volumes for the tender of "Highland Schottische" by Catherine Kearns, Mary Lally, Agnes Riley and Mary Murphy, a waltz by Louise Bradley and Marion Grandall, a jockey dance by Eva Kearns and an Irish jig by Edna and Harold Lally. All of the above reflected great credit on the instructor in charge and showed the wonderful cooperation given by the pupils.

Park officials are profuse in their praise of Mr. Arthur Sullivan who acted in the capacity of head playground supervisor during the season. Mr. Sullivan has been on the job ever since the beginning of the year and has shown a valuable time and Supt. Kernan aptly termed him the right man in the right place. All of the above reflected great credit on the instructor in charge and showed the wonderful cooperation given by the pupils.

BEDFORD TAX RATE DECREASED $1.30

BEDFORD, Aug. 29.—The tax rate for 1922 was announced yesterday as $32.20, a drop of $1.30 from last year. According to the assessors this decrease has been obtained by a gain in the town's valuation, largely through real estate. The total valuation is set at $2,562,221, of which $2,117,438 is in real estate. An increase of about $200,000, and $10,563 in personal property, a gain of about $50,000.

The town grant (this year totaled $7,888.62) also tax $2,490.60, and county tax, $2,125.35, making with other taxes about $33,000 to be raised by taxation.

Bridge Will Cost $50,000

live to pushing the work through at once. He pointed out that the bridge was needed badly and if work were to be accomplished on it, some start would have to be made right away.

The engineer submitted three sketches of bridges, all calling for different kinds of work. One sketch was estimated to cost $45,000, one $40,000 and one about $50,000. After looking over the sketches and upon the advice of Mr. Kearney, Mayor Brown recommended that the bridge costing $40,000 would be the best to answer all purposes.

The difference between the cheaper bridge and the one decided upon was a matter of $4000 but when the facts of the construction work were looked into it was found that in the long run the $40,000 bridge would fill the bill. The bridge itself is $40,000 called for the gliders between the sidewalk and the road. With this sort of a structure, Engineer Kearney pointed out the weak spots and showed where the cement on the bridge would be protected. With the $10,000 affair the gliders would be constructed at the outer edge of the walk and would protect the cement work from elements that are apt to work on unprotected cement.

Engineer Kearney illustrated his point by calling attention to another bridge in the city which was in poor shape owing to the fact that it carried heavy loads from the soft coal used by the railroads had made inroads upon the outside covering. The engineer said that the work looked all right at a glance but that a severe test of any kind would break away the covering.

The Lunderberg street bridge has been closed now for a long time and it was expected that work would be started upon it at any time. The bridge with fast approaching there did not seem to be any move to get at the work of replacing it. Engineer Kearney said that if the sketches were approved, the bids called for and contracts let within the next couple of weeks there is no reason why the work shouldn't be completed by the end of the year.

Peace Near in Coal Strikes

ably within a week, representatives of the miners and hard coal operators will sign a peace pact and 155,000 workers soon thereafter will return to their jobs.

Meanwhile, the series of conferences held by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and by Mr. Warfield and other operators has been continuing. United States Senator Bennett, Secretary of Labor Davis, Mayor John Durkin of Scranton and others have conferred with the labor leader in the last few days. He has consistently declined to comment on the situation.

Peace Near in Pittsburgh District

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Termination of the coal strike in the Pittsburgh district, where the officers of the United Mine Workers announced they would meet the scale committee of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association this afternoon on invitation of the association to discuss signing a scale under the Cleveland agreement.

House to Pass Coal Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Consideration by the house today of its emergency coal distribution bill under a rule providing for six hours of debate appeared to insure a vote on the measure before adjournment tomorrow. President Harding had been assured by Republican Leader Mondell that the bill, reported out of a committee yesterday and designed to strengthen the administration's hand in controlling coal distribution by creating a federal distributing agency, and extending the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission over priority of shipments, would be passed before tomorrow night.

Meanwhile a more complicated legislative situation in the senate was developing. Action on the emergency measure pending there, also reported out yesterday, but leaders predicted that it would receive favorable action without much delay. Secretary Hoover, in appearing at hearings yesterday on the House bill, asserted that some legal method, such as contained in the bill, of restraining extortionate prices in coal would be necessary, and Commissioner Atchison, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, concurred in this view. Opposition was expressed, however, by representatives of both operators and labor in the industry.

With administration leaders apparently confident that the difficulty threatened in moving the emergency coal distribution bill would be materially relieved under priority authority already possessed or to be conferred by pending legislation, the proposal for government operation of rail properties as well as those of the electric coal industry, had been put aside today. The president was understood to be not disposed to ask for the necessary congressional authority at least at this time. As to the emergency situation reports reaching the White House were so reassuring that it was indicated an agreement for reopening of the mines was expected within a very short time.

Abandon Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Denial of abandonment of President Harding's proposal to Congress for a federal coal distribution bill, was announced at the house today by Chairman Winslow of the Interstate Commerce committee at the beginning of a debate on the bill to create machinery to supervise distribution of coal.

The change in plans, Mr. Winslow said, has been acquiesced in by the president, whose suggestion for a purchasing and selling agency had been thrust into the background of congressional consideration almost as soon as it was submitted.

DORIS FAWN. ALTHOUGH NOT A STAR, SHE PLAYS IMPORTANT ROLES IN MANY PICTURES, ONE OF THE LATEST BEING "ONE CLEAR GALL."

VERA STEADMAN. SHE IS BOBBY VERNON'S LEADING LADY IN "PARDON MY GLOVE." SHE IS HERSELF A STAR IN SOME CHEAPEST COMEDIES.

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The most interesting picture I have seen in quite a time is "The Mystery Box." It has no love theme, little humor, no star player, no beautiful settings. In short, it has none of the elements by which the entertainment value of a picture is usually estimated.

"The Mystery Box" tells the story of the radio. It is one of those Bray film of the receiving and sending sets work. It has none of the elements by which the entertainment value of a picture is usually estimated.

The amateur radio operator is shown just how and why the various elements of the receiving and sending sets work. He sees how the radio wave is varied by the sound of the voice in the transmitter and how this variation is received in the receiving set, the sound being converted again into its original form, that of the voice.

Humans have communicated by sound ever since the beginning of human creation, yet the secret of sound transmission has been known for only a short time. Many long hours of study have been devoted to the subject of sound in school. The motion picture visualizes the entire process in ten minutes.

"The Mystery Box" is simply proof of the merit of visual education. As I recall long hours in the army spent in the study of communications, ballistics and other subjects of similar nature, I wonder why the government did not employ the motion picture as a means of visual education.

One thing that the reviewer of pictures must constantly guard against is bias for or against certain players whose screen personalities have a dominating reaction upon him. Screen personalities are not always the same as real personalities. Even if they were they should not enter into a judgment of the merit of a film.

With this explanation it is probably not unethical to say that the one character on the screen that irritates me is the reaction upon him. Screen personalities are not always the same as real personalities. Even if they were they should not enter into a judgment of the merit of a film.

Yet this very manner makes "Pardon My Glove," the next Christie comedy, better than the average run of comedies.

In that Vernon is a youth who takes to prize-fighting after his father disowns him for being expelled from college for fighting.

He is to travel ahead of the champion and establish a reputation for himself by knocking down a huge negro who travels with him. Then he is to be a "set-up" for the champion when the latter arrives.

The situation is complicated when

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—How long do prohibition leaders think it will take to make America dry?

"Twenty-five years," says William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

Anderson, though a state leader, is the most militant prohibitionist in the country and he admits he has the hardest job in the wettest state in what he calls "liquor's black belt"—New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

In an interview with N. E. A. Service he made these predictions:

"Within five or six years we will have broken the political backbone of booze and checked all serious efforts to change the dry law.

"Within another five or six years the bootleggers will be so generally in jail or in terror that the Volstead act will not be broken any more than other laws are.

"After that it will take 15 years for complete education of the people, especially those of foreign birth or extraction respecting the nature and effect of alcohol. At the point where prohibition will no longer be either an issue or a problem."

Anderson thinks prohibition really will be here in 1947. Perhaps earlier—but 1947 is his conservative estimate.

"Magazine straw votes don't bother us," he said. "Nor does the growing agitation for beer and wine. There is no chance in 100 of the Volstead act being changed."

Qualifying, he added: "But if it is changed—mark you, it will only be temporary."

Consumption of alcohol has dropped to 10 or 20 per cent compared with pre-prohibition days, Anderson estimates. The number of drinkers, he thinks, has decreased almost as much.

"I haven't any illusions about conscience and legislators," he said. "I know lots of those who vote dry are not personally. They're honest if they vote according to the sentiment of their constituents."

"Politicians and the public generally will eventually get it through their heads that anarchy is the only alternative to enforcement and observance."

The Anti-Saloon league will be necessary, Anderson says, through most of—and perhaps all—of the 25 years necessary to make prohibition prohibitive.

"It will cost more, too," he said, "because we now have two jobs where we formerly had one. These are first: to hold the law by electing dry congressmen and state legislators; and second, to enforce the law by organizing the public to get behind the regularly constituted local enforcement authorities—back up good officials, jack up the other."

"We are pushing a three-fold plan: First, community enrollment for enforcement through the newly formed 'Allied Citizens of America, Inc.' forcing everyone to take a definite stand either for or against law and order; second, enacting an enforcement act; and third, every citizen, by applying the 'Yankers Plan' where enforcement is lax, by co-operating with officials if they will enforce the law, or focusing publicity upon them if they won't."

Anderson says New York state already has 250,000 members of the Allied Citizens of America, Inc. and the enrollment campaign is just beginning.

"When the light is turned on all decent people will come in," he said. "There are prominent bankers, lawyers, manufacturers, and even a few preachers, who by opposing prohibition have placed themselves in the same category with the lawless and anarchists. When they see that through ignorance or prejudice they have lined up with the criminals they will come in out of the wet."

INTERNATIONAL FREE SEABIRDS AND SHARKS TRADE ADVOCATED EATEN BY CREW

VIENNA, Aug. 29.—A sensational incident occurred at yesterday's session of the Inter-Parliamentary union conference here when M. Treub of Holland

after reading a paper on international commerce, departed from his subject to advocate international free trade. He denounced what he termed the Chauvinistic trade barriers erected by the newly formed European states, and presented a resolution for the abolition of a world conference to abolish tariffs.

The British spokesman objected to the introduction of controversial political questions and threatened the withdrawal of the British delegation. He was strongly supported by Representative Theodore H. Burton of the American delegation who said that while his group would not withdraw in view of the importance of the conference, yet they would remain silent spectators if debate on such questions were allowed.

Then M. Bullson of the French delegation brought up the reparations question, declaring that the talk of a breakdown in foreign currency was "all talk" and that the Reich merely meant to evade payment.

MANIAC CAUSES REIGN OF TERROR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Details of a maniac's rampage on the shores of Pacific, in which seabirds were killed and sharks captured to replenish the larder, when starvation seemed imminent, were told when the four-nasted schooner William H. Smith, 123 days out of San Francisco, returned to the city on Sunday.

On board were seven long-haired men comprising the crew, Capt. Nels Peter Jensen and the skipper's wife and four children, the youngest a six-month-old baby.

The British spokesman objected to the introduction of controversial political questions and threatened the withdrawal of the British delegation. He was strongly supported by Representative Theodore H. MANIAC CAUSES REIGN OF TERROR
Summer Residents Beaten by Man Who Leaps From Ambush and Then Flees

Three Men Attacked in Ten Days—Houses Now Barri-caded by Owners

Three times in the last ten days the mysterious mad man has leaped from ambush and without provocation has struck down passersby.

On another occasion he bombarded two cottages all night with rocks.

Passes seeking some trace of the maniac have reported that he vanishes like a wraith after his assaults.

Vacationists from Greater Boston were victims of two assaults and although the madman has not been seen since Friday night campers in Mayflower Grove are still suffering a reign of terror. The police of Bryantville are investigating.

The maniac is described as a young man, smooth shaven, about five feet seven, inches tall and wearing a gray Norfolk suit.

The first attack was made on Thomas Mulken of South Boston, who was staying in the Eliza cottage a week ago Thursday night. He was passing through the grove on the way to his cottage in the dusk when the madman leaped from behind a tree and muttering unintelligibly struck him full in the face with his fist.

Mulken recovered from the blow and fled, fleeing, tending speed to his case back of the cottage. There he told Pamela Gallagher of Watertown of the assault and a posse was formed to scour the woods. No trace was found in an all-night search.

Friday morning a man answering the description of the madman was seen on the steps of a cottage. He was questioned by Chief Bates of the police department, who allowed him to go afterwords.

The following night John Barry of 208 West A street, South Boston, and John Gargus, also of South Boston, were walking through the woods when the gibbering man darted from some low bushes and hurled a large rock at the pair.

Barry dropped unconscious while Gargus fled for aid. He brought back a small tin of ointment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Barry recovered from the blow and fled, fleeing, tending speed to his case back of the cottage. There he told Pamela Gallagher of Watertown of the assault and a posse was formed to scour the woods. No trace was found in an all-night search.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARIES

Contest Between Johnson and Moore for Nomination for Senator Feature

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A record race for an important nomination combined today to indicate a heavy vote in California primaries. The contest attracting chief interest is that between Hiram Johnson, incumbent, and C. C. Moore, for the republican nomination for senator.

The races for the republican gubernatorial nomination and for the lieutenant governorship on the same ticket, also are receiving much interest. These were contested vigorously by Governor William D. Stephens and Friend W. Richardson, state treasurer, and C. C. Young, incumbent, and Joseph A. Thompson.

Matthew B. Jones, Los Angeles attorney, and Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney for Los Angeles, are seeking the democratic gubernatorial nomination and Jones also seeks prohibition endorsement for the office. Alexander Hore of San Francisco is opposed for the socialist nomination.

Montana Primaries
HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—Montana voters went to the polls today to nominate candidates for United States senator, representatives in two congressional districts and, exclusive of governor, for various state offices.

One woman and five men are candidates in the First Congressional district for the democratic nomination, Maggie Smith Hathaway of Stevensville being the only woman candidate for the more important posts.

Another Council
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Garrett Barry Council, American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, has withdrawn from the state association and will hereafter be known as the Collins-Girthing association of Somerville. This action was taken Sunday night at a meeting in Newcomb hall, Somerville, and according to an announcement made by members was caused by a statement made by the state council to the effect that "typical Collins, commander of the Irish national army, met the end that he deserved."

20 P. C. INCREASE
FOR 3000 EMPLOYEES
PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 29.—Thirty thousand employees of the Minnequa Steel plant of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. here, will receive a wage increase of a little more than 20 per cent beginning Sept. 1. These men are classed as unskilled laborers.

"Sylpho-Nathol made Herbert's feet feel fine"

"Herbert's work keeps him on his feet for hours at a time. He walks miles and miles every day. In hot weather, his feet used to hurt him dreadfully—they would swell and get so tender he couldn't sleep at night. But Sylpho-Nathol gave him quick relief."

"Lettie Hayward told me about Sylpho-Nathol and its many uses. I bought a bottle at the druggist's. The directions recommended it for tired and aching feet."

"Herbert came home that evening with his feet driving him nearly crazy. He tried Sylpho-Nathol as soon as I told him about it. A tablespoonful in a gallon of warm water made a clean-smelling, nearly-gray solution. My dear! I wish you could have heard Herbert, 'Sylpho-Nathol is certainly a life-saver, Bess,' he said, as it soothed the soreness away. It's great stuff to have in the house—don't let's ever be without it."

But Sylpho-Nathol has many other important uses. In cleaning-water, it destroys germs which lurk in dust and dirt and threaten family health. As a sprinkler, it quickly dispels the unpleasant odors which come in sink pipes and drains and other hard-to-get-at places. It is indispensable in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl. It is a dependable antiseptic, which deserves a place in every home medicine chest.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, yet it is as safe to have about the house as a cake of soap. Your druggist or grocer has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. If he hasn't it he can get it easily. Ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cambridge, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I had not been any more troubled after that until I was married, then I was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman who will write asking what it did for me."

Mrs. JOHN HERR, 63 Dilley Street, Cambridge, Md.

Mrs. Herr's case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

Cloth Coats Are So Alluring They Rival Furs

TWO STUNNING WINTER OUTFITS. AT THE LEFT, ONE OF THE NEW COATS OF BROWN WOOL, BANNED WITH BEAVER, AND A WINTER SUIT, ALSO OF BROWN, EMBROIDERED AND FUR TRIMMED.

Now that you have done your fur coat shopping early, and probably spent your dress income for several months ahead, along come the alluring cloth coats and suits.

They are so very attractive they are sure to give you anxious moments and make you wonder if, after all, you bought wisely.

You will find much to delight you in the new suits and wraps. They have a suppleness of texture, richness of coloring and variety of treatment that is amazing and appealing.

They achieve a general effect of grace and softness that makes them universally becoming.

Short Model Coats
In coats there are many new short models of the sport variety, as well as the long straight-line coat and the flaring model.

Much has been predicted for the flaring coat, and since it presents a new silhouette many women will favor it for its novelty.

But the straight coat has been given so many decidedly novel features it will undoubtedly hold its own. We find it embroidered, stitched and combined with contrasting silks and velvets.

Frequently it is belted and slightly bloused and has the one-sided cabu-chon fastening, the newest feature. Very wide, fur collars and cuffs are used on these wraps, and frequently fancy and unusual sleeves add an odd touch.

The flaring coat is usually belted at the bottom, with fur and cut with a narrow shoulder line.

Few Gay Linings
One sees few gay linings this season. Usually they are of crepe de chine, matching the color of the coat. Plain rather than figured material is chosen.

Kolinsky, beaver, mole, caracul and Persian lamb, as well as the various furs, are the pelts most frequently used in combination with cloth.

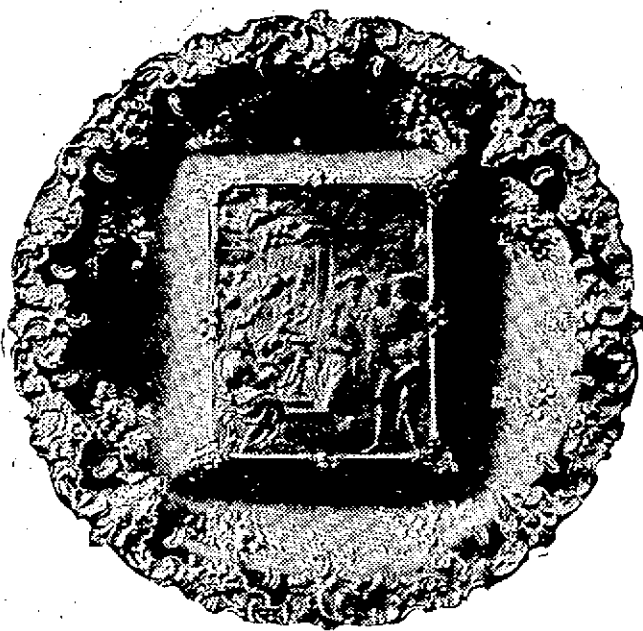

Suits are to be more popular this year than they have been since the reign of the one-piece frock.

One reason for the revival of interest in the suit is the new blouses. They are made of the most gorgeous materials, embroidered and headed, and are so elaborate that they form a costume when worn with a suit skirt.

Silk sweaters and Russian over-blouses, plain and beaded, will be extensively shown for winter.

On the whole, you are facing one of the most decorative seasons of history.

CHURCH MEETING WILL DISCUSS RIGHTS OF WOMEN

GOLD BASIN IN WHICH OFFERINGS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WILL BE PRESENTED AT THE EPISCOPALIAN CONVENTION.

BY N. E. A. SERVICE

PORTLAND, ORE., Aug. 29.—Representation in the governing bodies of the Episcopal church by women will be one of the chief topics of the forty-seventh triennial general convention of the church to be held here September 6.

A partial report of the joint commission on women's work has declared that "a very decided weight of opinion that has come to the commission does not favor the establishment of a national house of church-women."

The report further sets out that "in many quarters the clergy and the laity, including the womanhood of the laity, have not as yet made up their minds, but are awaiting light upon the matter before expressing an opinion."

This despite the action of several state conventions, which went on record or actually gave women places as deputies.

The commission, however, will give full consideration at the convention to the matter of equal rights.

Great interest centers in the final recommendation of the joint commission, which declares married as well as single women shall be eligible as deaconesses.

One of the events at the convention will be the presentation of the thank offering of the women's auxiliary, gathered from all parts of the world, China, Alaska, Africa, the Philippines, from everywhere.

At the end of three years the combined offering is sent to the general convention, contained in a tiny gold basin.

Total collections have reached the sum of $2,014,300.18 since 1899 when the custom was inaugurated.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
The school committee will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. As this is a regular meeting it is possible that any matters having to do with school affairs will be brought up. It is expected that one or two new teachers will be elected.

COOLIDGE GOES TO MAINE
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Vice President Coolidge, who arrived here yesterday from the Pacific coast, left this afternoon for Portland, Me., where he will address a political meeting tomorrow.

He will return to Boston for a brief visit before leaving for St. Paul, to deliver an address on agriculture at the Minnesota state fair.

At the final peace conference last night.

It also was agreed to curtail night railroad yard service, so as to reduce night work for the men as much as possible.

With this arrangement and the further advice from Mr. Titus, that the men should use their own judgment and not attempt to use a locomotive they believed defective, their posts again, intent they said, on moving trains out of this division point as fast and as nearly on schedule as possible.

Labor Board Hearings
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(By The Associated Press)—The walkout of Chicago & Alton trainmen at Roodhouse, Ill., is over. Striking engineers and company officials met at Slater, Mo., in a move to end the C. & A. tieup there.

The United States railroad labor board continued its hearings on the application of maintenance of way employees for increases in wages. Five men were held on charges of murder in connection with the Michigan Central wreck at Gary, Ind., Aug. 20, when two of the train crew were killed.

There were important developments in the railroad situation today, following bomb outrages, shootings, wreck plots and investigation by federal, state and private operatives during the last 24 hours.

Five Charged With Murder
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Five men were charged with murder today accused of wrecking the "Million Dollar Express" on the Michigan Central near Gary, Ind., Aug. 20, when two of the train crew were killed.

Five others were held in connection with the wreck investigation and at least two more who are known were sought, according to the police.

Confessions obtained from some of the prisoners not only solved the wreck of the express, but bare a plot to wreck the Twentieth Century Limited, the crack New York-Chicago train, near Elkhart, Ind., the police said.

The five who face the murder charges are Joseph Papourvitch, Charles Ussels, John Petrovski, Albino Alessio and James Prehelski.

All were said to be striking shopmen.

Strikers Sue Railroad
PASCO, Wash., Aug. 29.—Twenty-eight striking Northern Pacific shopmen here are starting suits for $1000 each against the railroad because they have lost their jobs.

This is how it happened:
After the strike was declared, the railroad management decided to build a fence around the shops as a protection to the property and the workers. The contract for building the fence was let to a construction concern. The 28 jobs shopmen immediately applied for jobs helping put up the fence and got them.

When the Northern Pacific found it out, the 28 allege in their law suit, they lost their new jobs. Boycott and black-listing are charged.

GERMANY TO BREAK UP BRITISH WARSHIPS

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Times understands that arrangements have been made for sending a number of old British warships to Germany to be broken up. As the admiralty's policy of late has been to refuse German offers for old vessels as scrap, it is assumed those to be sent are among a group sold several months ago.

It is reported in shipping circles that Germany is building a ready market in Russia for scrap metal, which would account for her keen demand for old tonnage.

LICENSE COMMISSION
At tonight's meeting of the license commission the new law relative to the sale and possession of firearms will be taken up. The law transfers the authority for the granting of permits to retailers for the sale of firearms from the city council to the license commission. The regular business of the commission will also be transacted.

OULOGHLY WINS TENNIS TITLE
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—David Ouloughlin, a British-born boy, not quite 15 years old, became national boys' lawn tennis champion today when he defeated M. T. Hill, Jr., of Newton, in the final match of the boys' tournament on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club. He won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3.

William T. Thiden, 2nd national champion, refereed the match.

COLLARS
Picturesque wide collars of white satin or whiteorgette with wide hem attaching and sometimes embroidery, are featured on the new fall frocks, relieving the plain necklines to which we have grown accustomed.

And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable all the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?"

The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine. There can be no healthy, beautiful rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron is the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly-looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated iron from any drug store under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

Dave Rosenberg Issues Challenge

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Dave Rosenberg, who is middleweight champion of the world in New York state, has sent a challenge to fight the winner of the bout between Ilamona Kelley and George Robinson, here, on Friday. Kelley is slated to fight Johnny Wilson, the champion outside of New York, if he defeats Robinson, and the consent of all parties concerned, including the Massachusetts boxing commission, has been granted. Kelley and Robinson both said today that they did not wish to fight for the championship of New York state and the New Yorker's challenge was not considered.

May Not Return $250,000 Worth of Liquor

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The $250,000 stock of pre-war liquors seized from Cornelius and Dennis J. Keefe by prohibition agents several months ago, may not be returned to the owners, according to the report today by Arthur D. Hill, the master appointed by Federal Judge Morton to hear evidence on their petition to recover the liquor. The master found that the Keefe cellar was used for purposes other than that of a private cellar. The seizure was said to be the largest ever made in New England by prohibition officers and the stock consisted of large quantities of champagnes, wines, brandies and whiskies.

Passengers Given Scare in Tunnel

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Passengers on cars in the East Boston tunnel under the harbor were given a scare today when a trolley wire broke and fell across the tracks and ties. The wire short circuited, causing sparks to sear the wooden ties and as the smoke crept into the cars many passengers rushed out and groped their way down the tunnel to Maverick Square while carmen guarded the live wire. Forty cars bearing 2000 persons were stalled for 30 minutes.

$10,000,000 FUND TO CONTROL SALE OF COAL $1.50 TO COST OF FORD

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The New York Assembly today passed by unanimous vote the administration bill proposing to create a single headed fuel commission with power to control the use, distribution and sale of coal during the coal shortage emergency and providing for the creation of a fund of $10,000,000 for the purchase and sale of coal by the state. Similar action in the senate was expected to follow soon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Present coal prices would only add $1.50 to the price of Ford cars, Secretary Hoover declared today in expressing the hope that the Detroit automobile manufacturer would not find it necessary to close his plants because of the price of fuel.

Mr. Hoover said he noted that Mr. Ford considered $1.50 a ton a reasonable price for coal, and that the Detroit manufacturer could obtain it now at $5.50.

WHAT CAUSES HEADACHES?

"Fruit-a-lives" Prevents Auto-Intoxication

Auto-Intoxication means self-poisoning. Many people suffer from partial Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels. Waste matter which should pass out of the body every day, poisons the blood.

As a result, there is Headache, Indigestion, Disturbed Stomach, lack of sleep, Rheumatism and Eczema.

"Fruit-a-lives" will always relieve Auto-intoxication as these fruit tablets, made from fruit juices, act gently on the bowels, kidneys and skin and keep the blood pure.

TO PRESERVE INDUSTRIAL PEACE

This nation during the past six months has had a most impressive lesson upon the necessity of some legal machinery for preserving industrial peace. This is evident not alone in the direction of public service corporations and the mining of coal, but also in that of other industries in which vast numbers of employees are engaged, such for example, as the textile industries.

The government is naturally concerned over the continuity of public service industries such as coal mining, railroads and various others. It should provide a means under which the railroads and all allied industries would give continuous service regardless of who should be employed. It was for this very purpose that the Railroad Labor Board was originally appointed, but as it has failed to prevent strikes, and is now practically impotent in the face of the current railroad strike, it must be invested with greater judicial powers in order to enable it to enforce its decrees, at least to the point where an appeal to a higher tribunal or to arbitration may be deemed advisable in any particular case. Any suspension or crippling of the transportation system of the country is calculated to cause serious loss, inconvenience and possibly suffering to the public. If we are to have the public and the country protected against such calamities, we must have a tribunal that will deal with the railroads in a manner that will prevent strikes and maintain continuous service. In regard to the strikes in great industries under private management, it is obvious that the present danger of strikes and lockouts is ruinous alike to employer and employee.

What is the remedy? There must be some official tribunal vested with full power to investigate, and in the absence of a voluntary settlement between the parties, to fix a fair rate of wages. There are several modes of reaching that result. In solving this problem, we may get some excellent points from Canada, which for many years past has had a law which forbids strikes until after an official investigation of the wages, the working conditions and the earnings of the industry affected. In a majority of cases the parties in conflict compose their differences when they learn the result of the investigation as it clears up many misunderstandings and supplies the actual facts from which to draw conclusions. That is not compulsory arbitration, but it serves practically the same purpose by indicating where justice lies and turning public sentiment against the party that is shown to be unfair.

Why is it that this country is so backward in framing such preventive and remedial legislation? Simply because our legislators are afraid to incur the opposition of labor organizations; but it is very evident from what we have seen during the past few months that the strikers are the principal losers in every such conflict and that if the disputes which now lead to strikes can be settled legally, amicably and fairly, it will be for the greater benefit of the workers, the employers and finally the general public whose interests and safety are usually ignored in every such conflict.

A report issued by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mediation and Arbitration shows that the wage loss from strikes in that state during the first half of this year was $117,546,466, of which fully $124,563,914 fell upon the striking miners. In the combined bituminous and anthracite fields, 340,108 miners were idle and for the first six months they had lost a total of 22,969,698 days' work; and if the calculation were brought up to August 20, the total would be 30,215,206 days. The average wage of miners is about $5 per day, and thus the total loss by the strike up to date would be $200,000,000. If the sum lost by the railroad strike in Pennsylvania be added, the total for that state would be $250,000,000. If the loss in the other states were computed and added, the total would be colossal. But it is plain that the mine owners have also suffered serious losses, while the loss to the general public in retarded business and curtailment must also have been very heavy.

If the losses resulting from the textile and other strikes were also computed, the total would be simply staggering. Here then is surely a convincing argument for a means of preventing all strikes on public service corporations and providing some means such as that which has been in operation in Canada for dealing with other labor disputes. Let it be remembered that there are also indirect and invisible losses that can never appear in any computation of this kind, but which are felt in the loss of the co-operation, the good will and efficiency which are essential in the attainment of financial success in any industry. Thus, we have overwhelming arguments in favor of some practical legal machinery for dealing with labor troubles of all kinds.

SALE OF FIREARMS

That new law to restrict the sale of pistols is one of the most passed by the legislature for many years. It is just what is needed to prevent dangerous characters from buying weapons with which to commit murder or suicide.

The license commission alone will have the authority to grant permits for the sale of pistols. No alien can purchase a pistol unless first granted a permit to carry it. A citizen who has no permit to carry a firearm must give twenty hours' notice of his intention to purchase one and the dealer is required to notify the police in order that the prospective purchaser may be investigated. Both the purchaser and the dealer are placed under strict regulations calculated to make more difficult the purchase of firearms. The law will seriously affect the sale of firearms; but it will make it impossible for criminals to run into a store at any moment to purchase a revolver for the purpose of blowing somebody's brains out. We should have had such a law long ago.

LABOR SHORTAGE PREDICTED

Wall street speculators regard the present wage advances as the forerunner of a labor shortage. This will come as a direct result of the restriction on immigration. The supply will soon fall far short of the demand and then there will be an appeal for a lowering of the wage to allow more immigrants to come in.

To allow unrestricted immigration affects labor just as free trade would affect the domestic manufacturer. Free trade will keep the prices of manufactured products down to the European level and unlimited immigration would keep wages down by allowing all classes of foreigners to come here to compete with American labor. It is likely that the present immigration law will be retained for several years unless the big business interests demand its repeal.

SEIZING THE MINES

Senator Walsh's bill providing for the seizure of the coal mines meets with general favor; but the president does not favor the seizure of the railroads. Yet it will be useless to mine the coal unless the railroads distribute it to the points where it is most needed. To seize the coal mines under present conditions is a matter of public necessity and not a socialistic move as our roving contemporary alleges.

The republicans have blacklisted State Auditor Cook. They want him beaten by hook or by crook, claiming that he was elected on a fluke. Too many Cooks spoil the political broth and it certainly has been a very nauseating compound during the past year.

The action of the Lawrence mills should be followed by all the other cotton mills of New England in order to put an end to the ruinous strikes. If the mills wait much longer they are likely to receive a demand for an increase in wages from the operatives who are working.

Physicians approve a heavy breakfast, which, however, depends upon the person who eats, the nature of the food he eats, and what work he is to do after eating. There is hardly any rule of diet that can be safely followed by everybody.

The man who pleads for a truce in the civil strife in Ireland talks sense, but it must be one that the British government will approve—unless Ireland is able to cast off British authority, which is very doubtful.

Officials of the A.A.R.R. in Lawrence resigned on hearing of the death of Michael Collins. They do not wish to have any part in promoting civil war in Ireland.

Ireland's tribute to Michael Collins places him among the great men who endeared themselves to the nation by heroic sacrifice in the cause of justice and freedom.

The wage barometer shows a rising tendency all over the country. That alone should induce progressive industries to get into line.

Peace is at hand in the coal strikes we are told. That may mean a settlement in a week or it may mean another hitch and consequent delay.

A Thought

We may, if we choose, make the worst of one another. Everyone has his weak points; everyone has his faults; we may make the worst of these; we may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven.—A. R. Stanley.

Was Pretty Hungry

He was the most down-and-out-looking specimen of a tramp that had ever appeared at the back door of the little country farmhouse. The farmer's wife viewed him with disgust. "My goodness!" she cried, "I don't believe you have washed yourself for a year." "Just about that," agreed the tramp, not in the least abashed. "You see, I only washes when I eats."

Always Something

"How be Daisy doll, now she's married?" asked Mrs. Giles. "She's doing grand," replied Mrs. Hobson. "She's got the prettiest little cottage with a garden and that, some real nice furniture, two pigs, an automobile, and she's got a new maid. I believe she's washed herself for a year." "Just about that," agreed the tramp, not in the least abashed. "You see, I only washes when I eats."

Slight Mistake

"You've made a mistake in your paper," said an indignant man, rushing to the editor of the local paper. "I was one of the competitors in the boxing competition yesterday and you called me the 'well-known light-weight champion'." "Well, aren't you?" said the editor. "No, most certainly not, and it's extremely awkward, because, you see, I'm a coal dealer."

Saving His Chum

Two boys were fishing on an English estate when a gamekeeper dashed out suddenly from behind a hedge. The boys started to run. They took different directions, but the gamekeeper followed the one who shouted and seemed most frightened. After a long pursuit the boy was captured. "You've been fishing without a permit," said the keeper. "No, I haven't," replied the boy, and to the amazement of the gamekeeper, produced a permit. The gamekeeper looked at it and found it in order. "Why on earth did you run away?" he said angrily. "To let the other boy get clear. He hasn't got a permit."

Today's Word

"Today's word is 'approchement.' It's pronounced—according to Webster, a French word, with the first syllable lightly and the second syllable more heavily accented, but in its original French form the last syllable is pronounced about half way between 'sawed' and 'mong,' with the 't' barely, if at all, touched upon, and with the syllables equally accented. A pronunciation lacking any exact equivalent in English, it means the act or fact of coming or being drawn near or together by the establishment or state of friendly relations. It was 'lifted' into the English language directly from the French, 'approcher,' to cause to approach or near. It's used like this—'Some French leaders believe they have a chance to get their money more quickly and easily by a rapprochement with Germany than through the use of force.'"

True Love

Although I love you well, my dear, I cannot quite forget My lover of another year, Whose laughing haunts me yet; He was a careless lad and gay, I knew he dealt in lies, And to believe the half he'd say One would his sort despise.

But when he smiled my heart he led And when he sang a song, The life of it went through my head A joy the whole day long! I know your love will last for aye, And all your vows are true, But don't be angry if I say I'm lonesome loving you.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

A sport that is creating a sensational come-back hereabouts is the strenuous game of tennis. I remember when I was a young man the boys in my neighborhood didn't take kindly to the sport, firstly because there was no place to play and secondly because the pastime was considered a "wiffle" game played only by the effete or by girls. With the establishment of municipal courts at Shedd park, however, the familiar phrase "O tempora, O mores!" has been substituted for the assiduous expression describing the followers of tennis. And, truly, times and customs have changed. Today, a visitor to Shedd park is surprised at the number of individuals waiting for their turn to occupy the courts so well laid out there by the employees of the park department. To secure an interest already manifested in the game, a tournament has been arranged by the officials of the department to determine the championship of the city, and judging from the entry blanks received to date at city hall, the field of contestants will be in evidence when the tournament opens. Mr. Robert Douglas, who has been designated official matchmaker, is an ardent and proficient enthusiast and is working hard to make the affair a success. His fifteen-year-old daughter, Quigley, has already won the junior playground championship and bids fair to outscore her older and more experienced rivals in the coming matches. The series will probably start next week.

Railroad officials may be justified for some reason or other in telling the public that trains are running on scheduled time and that the strike has made no noticeable change. Saturday was an exception, however, for I hurried with might and main to catch the 5:33 train and when I reached the depot, my efforts were rewarded by looking at the bulletin board only to find that said 5:33 was 40 minutes late. As my dripping clothes testified, it was raining quite hard at that particular hour. Saturday, I sat down in the station to dry off, if possible. A few moments later the announcer at the station came into the main vestibule, took up a piece of chalk, rubbed off the 40 minutes late item on the bulletin board and entered 55 minutes in its stead. With that I asked him the cause of his latest maneuver and he replied that he could not explain the delay. Eventually I reached Boston, at least in time to get the last train home again.

I attended the exhibition of boxing bouts conducted in the Crescent rink by the strikers last week. The occasion marked my first offence near the famed roped arena, but it will not be my last. I hope for I was impressed with the sport from the moment I stepped into the main go featuring the old reliable Phiney Doyle. I wondered why the bouts were billed as exhibitions, for as I remarked to a friend, if these are exhibition bouts, the real thing must be wonderful. To one so unaccustomed to the licks and cuts of fisticuffs, the whole thing was a delight to me. First one man was against the ropes and then the other; first one man would push over a left or right hook and then the other, and all in all it was a treat to look upon. The rowdies from the gallery were exceptionally funny and amusing, not to the combatants but to the spectators. Witty remarks greeted the appearance of every new card on the program, and unlike the usual "knockouts" the real conversations were real "knockouts."

The old familiar hall and pavilion at Willow Dale, known to hundreds of present and past generations, is about to be sold, making way for the new hotel, said Dr. Wallace in the local dial. Years ago the hall was one of the most popular places of its kind in all New England, the rendezvous of countless numbers of outing parties and old-fashioned clam bakes. Then too, it was the scene, I might say, of the children's picnics and excursions to Lake Umbagog. It was, in fact, the beginning of the lake's prosperity, and until a few years ago, was patronized to a great extent by out-of-town parties. I also recall the time when the steamboat plied between the point and Lakeview, and for this reason its popularity was increased, because in those days a boat ride across the lake was considered a luxury of the first rank. In more recent years the big pavilion has been utilized for howling and collie barking, which, I am sure, the old-time folk did not apparently take kindly to the Willow Dale hotelery, with the result that it is now offered for sale and immediate disposal. Old timers, will no doubt regret its passing, but it evidently is a case of survival of the fittest.

Considerable talk has been caused during the last few days on the part of patrons who have had occasion to enter the Electric Light company office on Market street, by the strange flower resting on the desk of Miss Sutton. The flower is of the lily species, pure white in color, and its petals seem to be of wax. The flower is known as Hymenophyllum, a native of Italy and Greece. It was taken from a plant growing in the garden of Dr. Thomas Waller in Park street. Dr. Waller secured a slip of one of these plants from Italy and planted it in his garden. After much care the plant blossomed and has beautiful bell-shaped flowers. Each flower has a hollow tube-shaped stem and grows under water. The flower is fresh. The flower is so wax like that it looks, at first glance, to be artificial.

Valuable prizes, totalling over $500 in monetary consideration, will be distributed to the winners of the different sporting events held at the Jewellers' outing, which took place at the Vesper Country club last week. They varied from souvenir watch fobs given by the Elgin Watch company, to two 25-cent pieces given by the jewelry silver, Frederick Ward, a son of Frank Ward, the well-known Central street jeweler, won one of the silver sets, while the other was won by a Haverhill man. Some of the largest jewelry firms in New England and several outside states have been the outfit for such an affair the worth of the awards given for athletic ability were certainly the "genuine goods." The features of the day was the humor of Hon. Perry D. Thompson as toastmaster. There is none who can do a better job in that line than the genial Dr. Thompson and he received an enthusiastic ovation from the picnicers when introduced. Suffice to say that all went smoothly with Perry at the helm.

HITS AT VOLSTEAD LAW

Cong. Stafford Used to Enjoy Glass of Beer, Now Afraid of Being Poisoned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Taking a fling at the Volstead law in the house yesterday, Representative Stafford, republican, who lives in Milwaukee, Wis., confessed that while in the old days he enjoyed a glass of beer he did not dare look a blind tiger in the face nowadays for fear of being poisoned. A bill relating to blind alleys in the District of Columbia was up, and somebody asked about blind tigers. "Once upon a time I did not have any acquaintance with those particular denizens of the jungles," said Mr. Stafford. "But since the coming of the Volstead bill that takes away my liberties so that I can no longer indulge in the city of Washington," but he didn't finish. "That only proves the gentleman is quite unacquainted with the town," interrupted Chairman Focht of the district committee. Mr. Stafford shot back that his own acquaintance with blind tigers was not as great as that of the chairman and added: "Prior to the reign of Volsteadism I limited my beverages to beer, good and wholesome. I can honestly say that to this date that has been the case. Since the reign of Volsteadism I am afraid to indulge in blind tiger stuff because of the numerous instances of poisoning."

WOMEN TO RENEW FIGHT FOR EQUALITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Lady Rhonda, who is resting at Stonington, Conn., before renewing her fight for a seat in the house of lords, declared yesterday in an interview with a representative of the national women's party that in October a committee of women "propose to tell Lloyd George exactly where the sex disqualification act has failed, and ask him what he means to do about it."

"We now say the sex disqualification act is a dud act," she said. "A few weeks ago the six point group, largely composed of the old militant group, demanded that Lloyd George receive a deputation of women who were to ask him what he proposed to do about securing full equality for women. Lloyd George has announced that he will see us in October. Thirty or 40 large organizations are sending delegates, including the former suffrage organization, the national council of women and a number of professional women's organizations."

Four of the six points of advocated legislation which gives the group their name have to do with the protection of children; the other two have to do with equal pay and opportunity for men and women in the teaching profession and in the civil service. Lady Rhonda said that in the 1918 election campaign in England Lloyd George promised that it would be the duty of the new government to remove all existing inequalities of the law as between men and women. After the election she said, the sex disqualification act was tremendously heralded but subsequent events undeceived the women who thought it meant full equality. The interpretation of the act in her country holding that it did not give Lady Rhonda the right to sit with the peers was, she declared, a final blow.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem WHY?

They tell me you're a wise guy, who Can dope out any line of stuff, An' so I'll spill my tale to you, An' say, old scout, it's sad enough. I banked my wad upon the Yanks, All I had saved, an' all I'm gittin', The team is playin' pretty, thanks, But tell me why the Babe ain't hittin'?

There's lots of things I'd like to learn, Like this here Einstein Theory, An' when the world is gonna turn Back to a state of Normalcy; But just now all I want to know, Of all things that's done or written, Is only this—please put me joe, Why ain't the old Bambino hittin'?

He used to boost 'em long an' high, He used to wham 'em for a goal, But now he hits a pop-up fly Or simply whiffs 'em as a rule; It's got my goat, I'm off my feed, I've been a fan, but I'll be quittin' Unless the Babe gets back his speed; Aw, tell me, Doc, why ain't he hittin'?

BODY OF SOPHIE BRYANT TO SEARCH ALL SHIPS ENTERING N. Y. HARBOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Prohibition Zone Chief Appleby will insist from now on that all vessels, whether flying foreign flags or the Stars and Stripes, procure permits whenever they transpire through American waters. He also expects to have all ships entering the harbor searched for liquor.

In announcing this program yesterday, Appleby said that last night he and some of his agents arrested two men leaving a German ship at her moorings near Sandy Hook and were slinking. The crew and 40 cases were rescued. He was told.

The other 700 cases were supposed to be floating about as quarry of a score of salvagers who were said to have rushed to the scene in a bewildering array of sea-going craft. The whiskey, it was said, was being transported from a mother ship lying about 12 miles off the shore.

Opening of a new bootleggers curb market on West Forty-third street, with price quotations, brokers and customers and all that goes with a genuine curb market also was reported. The price list at this market, as quoted by a prohibition official was:

Typical whiskey $110 a case; Bourbon $110; Imported English Scotch whiskey $110; Canadian Scotch $100; Canadian rye $95; domestic gordon gin $45; Burnett's bonded gin $55; Imported Italian vermouth $45; Imported French vermouth $65; Dubonnet $65.

COMPARED COLLINS TO JOAN OF ARC

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.) Michael Collins rests in the soil of the Irish Free State for which he died fighting. He was buried yesterday in the Glasnevin cemetery, where lie the bodies of Arthur Griffith, Parnell and other patriots and many of his comrades in the struggle for Irish freedom.

A thousand tributes were paid to this young man and remarkable Irish genius, who in the short 30 years of his life had given Ireland her place among the nations of the earth, but who, like Griffith and Parnell, was cut down before his work was crowned with complete victory.

While the regular mass was being chanted in the cathedral a military band played a march in honor of the national hero. The coffin was carried in his hand a single white lily, a token sent by Kitty Kiernan, the dead patriot's fiancée. It was placed on the coffin lid, and was tenderly placed there again when later the coffin was lowered to the grave.

At the graveside Richard Mulcahy, who succeeds as commander-in-chief of the national army, speaking of the life work and the death of Michael Collins for Irish freedom, said solemnly:

"Michael Collins can never be buried for his spirit will live to guide to achievement his ideals."
He was buried in accordance with the rites of the Roman Catholic church. All religious joined in yesterday's wonderful national tribute. Dr. Fogarty, bishop of Killarney, was the celebrant of the mass, which was attended by a great gathering of clergy, including Archbishop Duhan of Brisbane, Australia.

Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, who was present, but was represented by Father Edward A. Williams of St. Mary's church, Cantonville, Md.

Bishop Fogarty compared Michael Collins to Joan of Arc. "It seems to be God's way," he said, "but the times that extinguished that hero's life did not destroy her work. So will it be with Michael Collins; the work he did is indestructible; he gave us more than Orleans."

"It seems but a day since he burst on the Irish stage like a youthful Samson, strong in boyhood, with his white face, in royal union and jet black hair, and in three years he transformed Ireland, forcing England to relax her powerful grip and winning for his country a triumph which Hugh O'Neill never dreamed of."

"Sooner or later the people will get going in earnest, and when they do they will make short work of the wreckers. Then will the heroic figure of Gen. Collins tower high in glory while they who contrived his death die buried in shame."

It was more than a great funeral, said Father Williams, giving his impressions to the Associated Press. "It was a wonderful, spontaneous national tribute of affection."

"The cortege will ever live in my memory. I can see the vast multitude standing with uncovered heads and can see the sea of Irish faces, the fine young army as they walked slowly behind the coffin of their inspired leader. I heard the murmured prayers of the people and feel somehow that these prayers will save Ireland and that Michael Collins has not died in vain."

Judging by the expressions of the average citizen and the opinions of the newspapers, the tragic removal of the nation's two greatest figures, Griffith and Collins, will not weaken the course of the Free State, but on the contrary will strengthen it. First, because it is backed by public opinion and second, what is called the martyrdom of Griffith and Collins has rallied the people around the banner of patriotism.

The Virgin Islands were named by Columbus in honor of the 11,000 virgins.

NEW RULES ON CHURCH WINES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New regulations covering distribution of wine for sacramental purposes in accordance with the recent opinion of Attorney General Daugherty were issued yesterday by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair to become effective Sept. 26.

The regulations provide that manufacturers or importers of sacramental wine may sell only to authorized officials of a church. Church officers may not manufacture wine for their individual use nor for the use of the congregation, but may qualify as proprietors of bonded wine for the purpose of manufacturing wine for religious purposes or may be employed by qualified wine makers to supervise the production of sacramental wines.

Distribution of sacramental wines under the regulations will be made through duly appointed officers of the churches or congregations who are prohibited from selling to others, but where it was the practice of members of congregations before the advent of prohibition to use wine for sacramental purposes in the home, it may be furnished to such households in necessary quantities.

KID MCCOY PLANS HIS NINTH MARRIAGE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—Norman Selby, otherwise known as Kid McCoy, yesterday made application for a license to wed Mrs. Jacqueline A. McDowell of Baltimore, Md. The application was refused because the prospective bride was not present.

McCoy said the lady would arrive soon, and he had passports for the two to make a trip to the Orient, following the ceremony.

This will be McCoy's ninth marriage, according to local statisticians.

Picturesque Story of "One-Eyed Connelly of Lowell"

JAMES "ONE-EYED" CONNELLY
CHAMPION

BY ROY GROVE

Have you ever heard of James "One-Eyed" Connelly, the world's champion gate crusher?

A famous guy in James. He has seen every important prize fight since 1887 and has never paid a cent never but once and that time he lost his seat. He has traveled more than 200,000 miles to see these various battles and never dished out a penny for fare.

Connelly is an old fighter. He fought back in the eighties as a student under Jimmy Gardner. His career was blighted by half blindness, dating from a ring battle in which the face of his glove struck the pupil of his left eye, destroying the sight. But the love for the game is still in him and if he doesn't see a fight "there won't be none."

Connelly began his "gate crushing" system in California. It was a particular fight in Vernon, some three hundred miles from Fresno. But when he hopped the rattlers, in his eager-giving odds as to whether "One-Eyed" would be on hand or not. But he said he would, and when the ring sounded he was there.

SINCE THEN HE'S BEEN ALL THE IMPORTANT FIGHTS IN THE WORLD AND HAS NEVER PAID A CENT

He saw Dempsey battle Carpentier, Rickard fight him up. He planted him at the end of the arena, as Connelly puts it, "over in East Orange." He kept working his way down the pine boards, however, was kicked from seat to seat, and finally, when the going sounded—he was at the ringside.

Champ of All Classes

His most recent sneak was the Leonard-Teader bout. Connelly passed the gate with an old pair of boxing gloves. He told the attendant that he had been commissioned to present them to the winner, that they had been worn by Battling Keesee when he was champion of the universe in all classes.

Connelly predicted the Willard-Dempsey outcome, also the Dempsey-Carpentier finale.

Willard never can condition himself to do justice, he's past age, he can't come back, says Connelly.

As for Willard, he continues, "ha-ha, don't be funny! Say, he'll do a dive in one round, I'll bet my good eye."

James "One-Eyed" Connelly is on his way.

He's down from Boston, bound for New Orleans for a seventh time. He's traveled to Australia four times. Eighteen times to California. Four times to bouts in Havana. And all for nothing.

ON GRIDIRON THIS FALL IN WEST

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Sweet, sweet to the ears of Washington university is the wall of Andy Smith over the hard job he's having to provide a good lineup for the University of California this season.

Where the Golden Bear is lacking, the Huskies are in clover, and this year the central quintet will average at least 100 pounds of fast football players.

New to Coast

With the exception of Bob Ingraham, tackle and captain of this year's eleven, all the linemen are new to the Pacific coast conference, as at present constituted.

Bob Grimm, who was picked by Walter Camp in 1917 for Camp's all-American second team, and is reputed to be the greatest tackle ever produced on the coast, will be back in school this fall, eligible to play. Grimm is a 200-pounder, and the last of the famous grinner family to make gridiron history.

Two New Men

Two new men are Kuhn, 200-pound guard, and Hugh Walters, stars of last year's freshman team. Walters is the first member of Coach Ingraham's famous Everet high school team of 1920—national champions in their class—to be eligible for varsity play, and much is expected of him.

Another valuable addition to the Washington line is Jimmie Bryan, whose great bulk is available for guard after years' absence due to an injured knee. Bryan, later starred in basketball last year and was a unanimous choice for guard on all-coast quintets.

HARRY WILLS MEETS TUT JACKSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Harry Wills, New Orleans negro heavyweight, hopes to convince boxing followers tonight that he has some of the necessary qualifications for a championship match against Jack Dempsey. Wills is to battle Tut Jackson, of Washington Court House, Ohio, also a colored heavyweight in a bout slated for 15 rounds at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn.

Unusual interest has centered around the match because of Wills' promise to come with a heavy right hand and of the reports of Jackson's punching power.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Jaffres defeated the St. Joseph's Cadets last Sunday by the score of 17 to 0. For games call 1748-M.

The Durants challenge the Merrill Stars for a game at Shedd park Saturday afternoon for a 35-cent hall.

The Varum Independents would like to play the Emerald Seconds, a three-man team for a purse of $10, the game to be played next Saturday, Sunday and Labor day. It is now up to Manager Gauthier to put up or shut up.

Last Saturday's games between the Jaffres, Pawtucket Giants and Emeralds were postponed until next Saturday on account of rain. If these teams agree to the postponement, ring 622-B to inform the manager of the Emeralds. Tonight the Emerald Seconds will play the Matthews Stars. Tomorrow they will play the Red Sox All-Stars and the Warriors on Thursday. The challenge of the Young Yankees for a game on the North common at 2 o'clock Friday is also accepted.

The Pawtucket Blues defeated the St. Anne's 10 to 2 in a recent game. The Blues, made up of three classy catchers in center field. Next Sunday the Blues will play the C.M.A.C. Cadets on the Woodward avenue grounds.

THE C. M. A. C. AND SALEM TOWN TEAM

The C.M.A.C. Salem town team game, scheduled for last night on the Textile campus, was postponed until tomorrow on account of rain. As the last encounter between the two sides resulted in a tie, the coming game should prove a hummer. With Connor, Nash, Donovan, Davies and Gautreau, the Salem team has one of the strongest lineups in New England. The C.M.A.C. will probably have Ed Caskey at short, while Peterson or Holson will do the twirling. All gates will be opened at 5 o'clock sharp. C.M.A.C. players are requested to meet at the club house at 7 o'clock tonight.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

REARVILLE, Aug. 29.—Bright sunshine today promised to dry out the headville track and put it in excellent shape for the opening of the Grand Circuit races, put over yesterday because of rain. Horsemen showed special interest in the "Free-for-all" in which fast field headed by Margaret O'Brien, was entered.

The racing card today included the Belmont farm stake, 2.95 trot with a purse of $3000, the Fair Oaks Farm stake, three year old trot, a 2.16 trot and a Florida Breeders' futurity for two year olds.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES

The Butler A.A. 2nd football team has issued a call to all candidates for the 1923 eleven. All former players are requested to meet at the club rooms, next Friday night.

YANKS INCREASE LEAD ON BROWNS

Superb Pitching by Bob Shawkey for 11 Innings Brings Victory

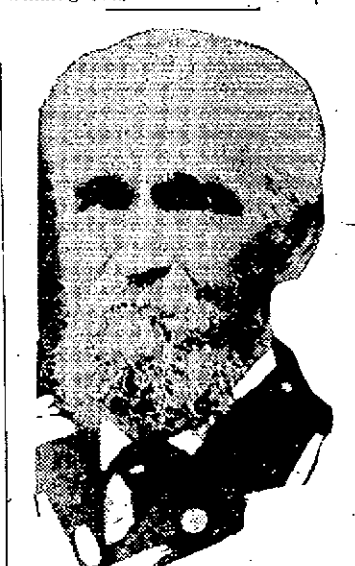

Brooklyn Lost 11-Inning Tilt to Pirates—Athletics and White Sox Split Even

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Superb pitching by Bob Shawkey for 11 innings enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Browns and lengthen their lead over the St. Louisians to a game and a half. The victory gave the Yankees the series, 3 to 1.

Urban Shocker, who won the first game of the four for the Browns, opposed Bob Shawkey and had good control, but the Yankee punch, delivered at the right moment, prevented him from carrying his club into the lead.

The Athletics and the White Sox divided honors in a double header. Hasty's wild throw in the fifth helped Chicago to its victory in the first game, 5 to 3. Home runs by Scheer, the Philadelphia third sacker, and Miller, Mack's right fielder, made the big factors in the Philadelphia triumph in the second, 7 to 2.

Brooklyn lost an 11 inning tilt to the Pirates 4 to 3, when Crocker Miller heaved wildly to the outfield in an attempt to catch Carey stealing. Bigbee's hit following scored the winning run.

DEAD MAN AT WHEEL OF AUTO

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Seeing a rapidly moving automobile approaching a group of children playing at Somer street and State avenue, Brooklyn yesterday afternoon, and hearing their frightened screams, pedestrians rushed to the scene in time to see the car swerve from the roadway across the sidewalk and crash into an iron fence in front of an apartment house.

The car bounced back and plunged forward again, indicating that the power had not been shut off. Several men hurried forward and shut off the engine and found a man slumped down in the driver's seat. He was dead.

Police from the 84th avenue station were summoned and from papers in the pockets of the dead man they identified him as W. C. Crane, a well-to-do plumber of Amityville, L. I. It is believed that he died of apoplexy induced by fear when he thought he was about to injure the children in the path of his car.

The big tennis tournament, conducted under the auspices of the park department, to determine the champion of the city, will get under way at the Shedd park courts this evening when the first contest will take place at 5 o'clock. Mr. Robert Douglas, official timekeeper, has made the following selections after a careful examination of the records of the contestants:

Tuesday: Hartly vs. McAdams; G. Turnbull vs. Henry; Condy vs. J. Turnbull.

Wednesday: Eigenbrot vs. Donohoe; Marshall vs. Jack McMorley.

Thursday afternoon: Kelley vs. Collier; Merrill vs. Downey; Brockmeyer vs. Price; V. McCarthy in first draw.

The above named are all registered in the tennis clubs, the holding their first appearance in a regulation tournament. The winners of the preliminary sets will then be eligible to compete in the class A tournament, which will follow in the near future.

NATIONAL LAWN TENNIS TO USE HIP POCKETS

Major League Ball Players to Carry Pocket Edition of New Testament

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Hip pockets of the major league baseball players' uniforms are being put to new usage. Many of them now carry a pocket edition of the New Testament.

W. H. Strouck, a representative of the Business Men's Council of the Pocket Testament League, appeared at Shibe Park yesterday afternoon and presented each member of the Chicago White Sox with a Testament. Each in turn signed a pledge to read a passage of Scripture every day. An added condition is that the player must carry the Testament with him always, on and off the field.

According to Mr. Strouck, the Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Detroit and both Philadelphia teams have already been presented with Testaments under similar conditions.

A well-known veteran baseball player and sportsman, he told them, contributed the amount necessary to distribute 600 leather-bound Testaments among baseball players.

CLUB WILL HAVE FAST BASKETBALL TEAM

At last night's meeting of the Highland Quintet, held at the Y.M.C.A., definite plans were made concerning the basketball team the club plans to put on the floor this winter.

This club is made up of members of the young men's department of the Y.M.C.A. and they have always put a fast basketball team into the field. The members intend to enter their team in a league with some of the surrounding cities.

The club is made up as follows: Albert Denie, president and manager of the team; Foster Browning, team captain; Osborn Smith, secretary; Bruce Douglas, treasurer; Abraham Ratelin, Harry Barton, Herbert Weiss, Robin Buchanan, and Chester Patton, members.

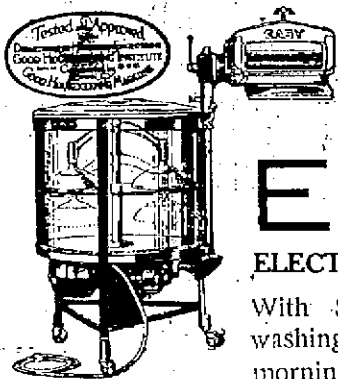

FUNERAL OF ARTHUR GRIFFITH IN DUBLIN

With troops lining the way and a military escort accompanying the hearse, the funeral cortege of Arthur Griffith, late head of the Irish Free State, moves from St. Vincent's hospital to Dublin city hall. ## $10,000 IN JEWELRY AND $400 IN CASH STOLEN

RYE BEACH, N. H., Aug. 29.—Robbers who Sunday night gained entrance to the summer homes of Harry N. Matthews of Waban, Mass., and A. D. Swift of Chicago, in the fashionable colony at Allen's corner, took jewelry valued at $10,000 from the first residence and about $400 in money from the latter. Portsmouth and county police officials were notified yesterday. In both homes valuable necklaces were untouched.

No evidence of the manner in which the intruders gained access was available and the police, after investigating, refused to say whether they believed the robbers were committed by professionals or persons in close touch with the households. The doors of the Swift home are fitted with old-fashioned locks and large keys. These were found to be in the exact positions in which they were left when the occupants of the house retired Sunday night.

In the Matthews house during the robbery were 12 persons, including four guests, two children and the servants. The only room not ransacked was one occupied by maids. None of the 12 reported being disturbed during the night. One of the maids admitted that she had heard a noise during the night, as though some one had stumbled over an obstacle in the yard but had thought nothing of it at the time.

Included in the stolen property were rings, necklaces, bracelets and other jewelry. The pearl necklace left in the Matthews home is valued at $10,000 while that left at the Swift home was said to be worth $500. About $350 in money was taken from pockets of the men guests at the Matthews home. The money taken from the Swift home was on a mantel in one of the rooms.

A search about the premises yesterday led to the discovery of a jewel box and several women's handbags and pocket-books in the butler's pantry of the Matthews house.

Both Sheriff Spinnay of Rockingham county and Chief Michael Hurley of the Portsmouth police were busy on the case yesterday but said last night they had uncovered nothing that would assist in tracing the robbers.

BRITAIN INTENDS TO PAY

Lloyd George Reiterates

Britain's Intention to Discharge Debt to U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Lloyd George, this morning, in conversation with Colonel E. M. House, who breakfasted with the premier, reiterated Great Britain's intention to discharge her present debt to the United States to the last farthing. Colonel House told the Associated Press.

Col. House said the premier begged him to tell those at home that Great Britain was not seeking financial assistance from the United States, but desired very earnestly her continued moral support.

COOLIDGE OPENS BIG GRAPHIC ARTS SHOW

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A graphic arts exposition was formally opened in the Mechanics building yesterday afternoon by Vice President Calvin Coolidge, who, after emphasizing the power of the printed word, pressed the button which flooded the halls with light and set in motion printing presses and other machinery utilized by the printing crafts. With the vice president on the platform was Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis, the great-granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin.

Mr. Coolidge in his address stressed the moral responsibility of those in charge of printing the news of the world, indicating that the point had now been reached where the power of the press should be utilized for the upbuilding of law and order rather than for its further development commercially.

"The newspapers," he said, "during this period of industrial strife have a tremendous opportunity of leading the way to a better understanding of our industrial problems, through sane, informing and constructive journalism. Distribution will take care of itself if production can be established on a firm basis, and no single agency in the world is so potent as the press in bringing about improved conditions."

Unanimous endorsement of a plan to erect a permanent graphic arts building on the grounds of the 1926 sesqui-centennial exposition at Philadelphia was given by the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen at the opening session of its convention here yesterday morning.

The proposal as outlined by President William R. Goodheart of New York would provide for the housing of all world exhibits of products, processes and history of printing and its allied industries and arts. Final action will be taken later during the convention.

LOCAL BOYS ADVANCED AT CAMP DEVENS

A number of boys and men from this section, now in training at the citizens' military camp at Camp Devens have been provisionally appointed as non-commissioned officers in general orders number four which were issued last week. The advancements took effect immediately as they were issued.

The following from this section were appointed: Paul F. Albertini of Billerica, lance corporal, B company, first battalion; Wallace McQueston of Lowell, corporal, C Co., first battalion; Samuel C. Battie of Andover, corporal, A company, second battalion; John T. Maguire of Lowell, sergeant, A company, third battalion; Frank F. ### FROSTING

By BERTHA SHAPLEIGH
A very simple frosting is made by mixing 1X confectioner sugar with cream, hot water or fruit juice until a consistency is reached. When fruit juice is not used add a few drops of vanilla or any preferred flavoring extract. Fresh strawberry or raspberry juice make a very pretty colored frosting, and orange—a very good tasting one. If chocolate is desired, melt one ounce or one square and add confectioner's sugar until of the right consistency.

YOUNG MEN FORM BACHELOR CLUB

Several young men of North Chelmsford recently formed an association which they called "The Chelmsford Bachelor Club." Meetings are held weekly at the homes of the various members and the topics of discussion are on a remarkably high cultural plane. It is not necessary for a member of this bachelor club to be positively antagonistic to the fair sex, but discussion or talk of women is taboo at the meetings. The entire time of the meeting is given over to the criticism and discussion of art, music, science, politics and current events. In fact everything that is beautiful but the women.

Matrimonial tendencies are cause for immediate expulsion from the club but the charter does not demand that the young men cut off all social engagements when they become enrolled as "bachelors." Plans for the fall and winter months are now in the making and the boys have some entertaining ideas that they will put into execution. The people of the town expect much from this newly formed club but several of the men about town say that there will be two or three vacancies in this organization before the snow flies.

The crowd apparently knows what a gun is, according to authorities on the bird.

The steamships Majestic and Lavinia are each one hundred feet wide.

Nation-wide Disintegration of Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Declaring that the breakup of negotiations between railroads and shop crafts' representatives last week has brought on a nation-wide disintegration of the strike, Robert S. Binkerd, assistant chairman of the Association of Railway Executives today announced that 6499 men were hired by the roads of the nation last Saturday within 24 hours after negotiations ended.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A strong tone prevailed at the opening of the New York stock exchange today. Steel stocks were in good demand, Crucible rising two points, with smaller gains being recorded by U. S. Steel and some of the independent shares. Trading in rails was comparatively light. Slight fractional gains being the rule. Slight fractional gains also moved to higher ground. Mexican Petroleum advancing 1 1/2 while substantial fractional gains were made by Baldwin and Studebaker. North American broke through to another new high at a gain of 1 1/2 points while gains of a point each were scored by American Smelting and Remington Typewriter. Coca Cola receded a point, presumably in response to speculative disappointment over the directors' decision in not declaring an extra dividend.

Evidence of increasing confidence in both investment and speculative markets was shown by the steady rise of most stocks during the forenoon. Crowding of the short interest in steel, automobile and oil resulted in some excellent gains when the bears began to cover. It also made substantial recoveries from recent heavy losses, apparently reflecting the relief felt over the virtual elimination of the prospect for government interference. Chicago wheat advanced 1 1/2 points, while gains of a point to 1 1/2 were made by Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, New Haven, Atlantic Coast Line, Reading, Great Northern, preferred and Louisville & Nashville. Other individual strong spots, all at gains of two points or more, were Gulf Steel, American Car, Baldwin, Pullman, American Ice, Corn Products, Kayser and National Lead. There were few exceptions to the general upward trend, Consolidated Gas dropping 1 1/2 points; Jewel Tea 1/2, and the preferred 5 and National Biscuit 2. Call money opened and renewed at 3 1/2 percent.

Buying in anticipation of higher dividend payments and aggressive speculation caused a further marked rise in prices in the afternoon, especially in the public utility group. High records for the year were reached by many of the issues as well as numerous other industrial. North American improved 5 1/2 points; Western Union 3 1/2; Chrysler, Peabody, 3 and United States Pipe common and preferred. Famous Players and United Retail Stores 2 to 2 1/2 points. Jewel Tea preferred extended its break to 10 points, while Atlantic Gulf and Marine preferred also advanced 1 1/2 points.

The advance in prices gained momentum during the afternoon in response to a brisk demand for rails, oils, equipments and special shares. Otis Elevator jumped seven points, while gains of three points or more were made by Mexican Petroleum, May Department Stores and Corn Products. The closing was strong.

FORD RUNS 57 MILES ON GALLON OF GASOLINE

A new automatic Vaporizer and the carburetor, which in actual test has increased the power and mileage of the Ford from 20 to 50 per cent, and at the same time removed every particle of carbon from the cylinders, is the proud achievement of John A. Strinsky, 410 So. Main St., Minneapolis, Minn. A remarkable feature of this simple and inexpensive device is that it is operated entirely by the motor. It is attached between the carburetor and intake manifold and can be installed by anyone in five minutes without drilling or tapping. With it attached, Ford cars have made from 10 to 57 miles on one gallon of gasoline. Mr. Strinsky wants to place a few of these devices on cars in this territory and has a very liberal offer to make to anyone who is able to handle the business which is sure to be created wherever this marvelous little device is demonstrated. If you want to try one entirely at his risk send him your name and address today.—Adv.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—The Eastern Steamship lines today announced a reduction of practically 5 per cent in freight rates between New York and Portland, effective September 6.

WORCESTER, Aug. 29.—A special meeting of stockholders of the Wickwire-Spencer Steel Corporation, was called today for Sept. 8 in the Worcester headquarters of the company, to ratify the action of a board of directors in arranging to purchase the capital stock of the American Wire Fabric Co., and to authorize the sale of $1,775,000 ten-year 7 1/2 convertible gold notes to pay for the stock of the American Wire Fabric Co.

GENEVA, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The meeting of the Council of the League of Nations has been postponed from today until Thursday for the convenience of certain members. Various committees, however, began their work today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—One half of the estate of $17,273 left by Catherine May of New Haven, Conn., was lost to Arthur May when he ceased to be her husband, it became known today when her will was filed for probate in surrogate's court. The entire estate will now go to Minerva May, a daughter of whom the other half was left by the original will dated April 27, 1912. According to the petition accompanying the document filed in behalf of Edward S. Pickett of New Haven, the whereabouts of May are unknown.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HOUSEKEEPER

YARMOUTH, N. S., Aug. 29.—Omar Roberts, a 60-year-old widower, was arrested today charged with the murder of Flora Gray, his 18-year-old housekeeper, who was found dying from burns in a fire which destroyed Roberts' home last night. The girl died after giving a brief statement in which she accused Roberts, the police said.

According to the police, Roberts drove to a neighbor's house last night and told him that his housekeeper had been burned to death. Other neighbors were hurried to Roberts' house a few moments later, found the girl in a smoke-filled room, burned and dead. Her dying statement, the police said, accused Roberts of entering her room after she had retired. When she fought him, the police said, he threw gasoline about the bed and lighted it.

COMRADES VOLUNTEER TO CONTRIBUTE SKIN

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 29.—Four comrades of Private William E. Davis of the light motor transport company, who were critically burned last month at Camp Devens, while extinguishing a gasoline fire, have volunteered to contribute two square feet of skin to be grafted on to Davis' body in the hope of saving his life and preventing deformity. The men chosen were from a large number of volunteers among Davis' comrades. Davis' act in extinguishing the fire saved a number of trucks from destruction. Davis has been commended by Governor Cox.

Harding Believes Congress Should Grant Him Authority

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Belief that the railroad would be able to handle the current coal needs of the country this winter was expressed today by Secretary Hoover, who said the test would come within the next two weeks.

In the past, Mr. Hoover said, the best continuous performance of the roads in handling coal, both bituminous and anthracite, was approximately 12,000,000 tons a week, while for the next six weeks they might be called upon to move approximately 17,000,000 tons a week. He said that total, however, could be cut down by not attempting to build up stocks and by confining distribution to current needs alone.

Mr. Hoover asserted that as far as he knew there never had been a serious discussion by the administration of the seizure of coal mines, either bituminous or anthracite.

Coal Loadings
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Figures setting another high record for daily coal loadings during the strike period, the public works department of the Railway Executives, showed that on Saturday last, the cars loaded totaled 22,178, exceeding by 312 the total for Friday. The total for the whole of last week was announced as 117,730 cars, or approximately 6,500,000 tons. Preliminary figures on loadings of coal for yesterday received by the Central Fuel Distribution committee, indicated a total of about 25,000 cars.

Believe Men Have All Perished
who were imprisoned in the Argonaut mine at midnight Sunday night by a fire, have all perished.

The attempt to cut through from the depths of the Kennedy, the deepest gold mine in America, to the bottom of the Argonaut has been abandoned as hopeless. The only hope of rescuing the men who are trapped like rats in a hole, is through the main shaft and that hope is growing fainter every hour.

Digging Renewed
JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—Digging in the Kentucky gold mine in an effort to effect a junction with the Argonaut shaft to release 47 entombed miners was renewed feverishly today when H. M. Wolf, superintendent of the state bureau of safety, announced that a hole could be cut through in two or three days.

U. S. GOLFERS LEAD ENGLISH RIVALS

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American amateur golfers led their English rivals for the Walker cup in four of the eight 36-hole matches today when the first 18 holes had been played. The English were ahead in the other four, but since the Americans captured three of a quartet of four-rounders yesterday, the invaders faced a tough uphill fight this afternoon. They would have to capture six of the eight matches to win the trophy.

The four Americans in the lead when the balls had rolled into the 18th hole were T. Jones, Jr., who was 1 up on Roger Wethered; Charles (Chick) Evans, 5 up on John Caven; Francis Oulmet, 4 up on C. C. Aymer and R. A. Gardner, 3 up on William B. Torrance.

Cyril Talley of England led Jesse Guilford of the United States 2 up in the feature match of the morning. The other three Britishers in the lead were C. V. L. Hootman, who was 2 up on Jesse Sweetser; W. Willis MacKenzie, 2 up on Max R. Marston; and Bernard Darwin, 1 up on Captain W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the American team.

FORD PLANTS TO CLOSE DOWN SEPT. 16

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Unless the Ford Motor Co. receives coal from an unexpected source, the company's manufacturing departments in the Detroit district, Sept. 16.

This statement was made at Mr. Ford's offices today in answer to a rumor in circulation in Detroit and elsewhere, to the effect that a way had been found out of the company's fuel problems.

When they heard a report to the effect that the federal fuel committee was considering steps to provide coal for the Ford Co., at the normal price, Mr. Ford, it was asserted, they had not been officially advised with regard to the matter and added nothing has been done yet to sell, as enough coal to operate all its plants but protecting prices.

Mr. Ford, it was reiterated, is firm in his conviction that for him to pay increased prices for coal at this time would have the effect of keeping coal costs up at the expense of other manufacturers and the householders of the country.

INTERNATIONAL CHECKER CONTEST

FALL RIVER, Aug. 29.—The first bout of the international checker contest was staged Monday evening at Fontenay hall, when a Canadian team of six picked up a 2-1 victory in the international cup against the American team, composed of six New Englanders representing New Bedford, Fall River, Southbridge and Holyoke.

The total score of the six games gave 3 1/2 points to the Canadians against 1 1/2 points to the American team. The former are L. Olin, L. Paquette, J. A. Bieau, R. Duesant, Wille Lafrance and O. Tanguay, all of Montreal. The American team is composed of Edward Bearegard, J. N. Antler, Wille Bearegard of Holyoke; H. Vaghel of New Bedford; O. J. Paquette of Southbridge and August Lafrance of Fall River.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN HERE

It was claimed to be an attempt to wreck a New York, New Haven and Hartford freight train near the city farm siding was brought to light this morning by railroad police patrolling that section of the track.

It was found that a big chain had been stretched across the tracks at the frog of a switch, and when found the links of the chain had been grounded down into the frog and parts of the switch. From the condition of the chain it was evident that a train had passed over the chain.

For Peace in Ireland

between the supporters of the treaty and their opponents in their determination to ultimately achieve the absolute freedom of their country, and that the very worst way of attaining the end was by shooting down the cream of our physical and intellectual manhood as we are now doing. The question would then naturally rise as to a better way without entailing the sacrifice of the principles on either side.

It is objected that the treaty between England and Ireland leaves us still within the empire. That is so, but we have shifted our position from the hub to the rim of the empire wheel, as Ireland, under the treaty, is no longer a portion of the so-called United Kingdom. It is objected that there is a pledge of fidelity to King George. That is so. But there is first an oath of allegiance to the Irish constitution, and when an Irishman, bound by that oath, does his full duty to his country, there will be little left by way of a second preference for King George or Lloyd George. Under the treaty, King George can no longer pose as the king of Ireland.

I attach no importance to the reservation inserted in the treaty by English ministers, with the object of saving their faces. Reservations are of no strategic or other advantage to England, as we could render them ineffective at any time within 24 hours. The main consideration is that the treaty gives us immediate facilities for making our nation strong and prosperous, and puts no restrictions on our future action.

I would suggest that the opponents of the treaty, having given abundant proof of their political faith, without any sacrifice of principle, ground arms and let the treaty have, say, five years' trial, when certain of its provisions automatically will come up for review under Article 6, so that peace and employment might be restored to the people and security given for capital to develop our industries. In the interval those opposed to the treaty would, of course, be perfectly entitled to propagate their principles constitutionally as a distinct political party. Government, in its best when strongly opposed.
